BRIAND HAS FORMED NEW FRENCH CABINET

"MAN OF THE HOUR" IN RARE STATESMANSHIP

EIGHTH TIME IN HIS CAREER HE HAS ACCOMPLISHED SUCH MISSION

LOUIS LOUCHEUR GIVEN IMPORTANT POST OF FINANCE

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Nov. 28.—Aristide Briand, the "man of the hour," has succeeded in forming a cabinet to replace the fallen Painleve regime.

At noon he reached the Elysee Palace to inform President Doumergue that his second mandate this week had been successful and that he had succeeded in constructing the cabinet. It is the eighth time in his political career that this extraordinary statesman has successfully completed a government.

The official cabinet ilst is as follows:

Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs Aristide Briand.
Minister of Interior Camille Chautemps, who was minister of justice in the last Painleve regime.
Minister of Justice Renoult.
Minister of Finance Louis Loucheur.
Minister of War Paul P. Painleve.
Minister of Marine George Leygues.
Minister of Public Instruction Edouard Deladier.
Minister of Commerce Daniel Vincent.
Minister of Public Works Anatole De Monzie.
Minister of Labor Louis Durafour.
Minister of Colonies Leon Perrier.
Minister of Agriculture Jean Durand.
Minister of Pensions Paul Jourdain.

Most of the men of the new cabinet served in the last Painleve cabinet. The new members are Rene Renoult, Loucheur, Leygues and Jourdain.

Whereas Painleve had the post of premier and Finance Minister Loucheur now takes over the highly important finance post and Briand becomes premier.

This cabinet has less left tinge than its predecessor.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Louis Loucheur, finance minister in the new French cabinet, headed and announced by Premier Aristide Briand today, has tentatively laid down the foundation of the government's financial policy and will have full details ready for announcement within a week.

Increased taxation appears likely to be the keystone of his program which will determine whether France is yet prepared to solve this most important of her troubles.

In an interview following announcement of the cabinet, Loucheur one of the wealthiest men in France, declared that "necessary new taxes are inevitable."

There is the wildest speculation, upon which he has yet thrown no light, as to his attitude on French debts. In this connection, it is recalled that at one time Loucheur advocated repudiation of these obligations.

"We have not a minute to lose," Loucheur said in discussing his program. "Germany already has reformed her currency. Belgium and also England are returning to a gold basis. It is necessary that we make a great fiscal effort but I would not consider a new interior loan for that would only increase the volume of the debt. Therefore necessary new taxes are inevitable.

"I will consider disposing of state monopolies especially tobacco, but certainly not the telephones nor telegraphs which the national interest demands remain in government hands."

10 PERSONS NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH

New York, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Ten persons narrowly escaped death here early today when the wall and floor of an old fashioned house containing an all night cabaret collapsed, hurling entertainers and guests into an excavation.

It is thought that the building was weakened by excavations for a sky scraper which immediately adjoined it. One of the entertainers was singing when suddenly the wall was seen to sway outward and the floor trembled finally giving away and plunging all into the excavation.

Johnson was charged with drunken driving. His 26 irate playfellows appeared to demand damages.

GERMANY SIGNS LOCARNO PEACE PACTS

PRESIDENT VON HINDENBURG AFFIXES HIS SIGNATURE

NOW ONLY CEREMONY AT LONDON NEEDED TO MAKE LOCARNO ERA OFFICIAL

By FREDERICK KUH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Germany's adherence to the Locarno peace pacts was made binding today by the signature of President Von Hindenburg.

The Locarno law passed by the Reichstag yesterday empowers Germany to sign the treaties at London next week. Hindenburg placed his signature on the measure at noon time today.

Thus there remains only the ceremony of London to make the Locarno era official in Germany and the allied lands.

The nationalists, defeated in their effort to kill the bill in the Reichstag are reported planning to take their fight to the supreme court, charging that the bill was unconstitutional because it was not passed under a two-thirds majority rule.

This move, however, is not expected to result in any upset for the measure, for the government previously had consulted its legal experts when the subject of the two-thirds vote was first raised.

1 DEAD, 1 NEAR DEATH IN ANOTHER MYSTERY SHOOTING

SCENE IS ROAD HOUSE NEAR WISCONSIN RAPIDS, WIS.

D. A. DAVIS DEAD, WILLIAM BAUER FATALLY WOUNDED

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Nov. 28.—(UP)—One man is dead and another is near death as the result of a mysterious shooting at a road house here last night.

R. A. Davis was killed outright when a bullet from a high powered rifle entered his brain, and William Bauer was perhaps fatally wounded when a bullet penetrated his abdomen.

Bauer was questioned by police at a hospital here but could give no motive for the attack.

The shooting was done by two men, whose faces were covered with white masks. The two men entered the road house quietly and without warning started firing. They then made a hurried exit and escaped in an automobile.

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Nov. 28.—Two men, one short and stocky and the other tall and thin were sought by central Wisconsin police today for the shooting to death here last night of R. A. Davis, 43, and the serious wounding of William Bauer, 36.

The two men, both masked, entered the road house of Frank C. Flatoff, near here, as Davis and Bauer were seated on a sofa on either side of Flatoff. Calling Davis by name with the remark, "You're the man we want," the taller man fired the shot that killed him. The shorter man then said, "Bauer, you're next" and sent a bullet through his abdomen. Davis died almost instantly with a bullet in his head and Bauer's condition is critical, although physicians announced this morning he had improved slightly and there was a chance he might recover.

Bauer told authorities he had no enemies and can give no reason for the shooting, having stopped at the road house while on his way home. Bauer lives with his mother, a widow on a farm near here and Davis lived on a farm near Nekoosa.

UNUSUAL VIEW OF MIAMI SHOWS HOW SKYSCRAPERS ARE BEING RUSHED TO COMPLETION IN SOUTHERN CITY

In the foreground of the above photograph, taken from Biscayne Bay, is seen some of the newly-made land which will be converted into a semi-tropical park. More than a score of skyscrapers are arising in this Florida city, whose building permits for October reached more than $10,000,000, a figure exceeded by only five cities in the world. Office space is at a premium and business buildings are being erected with all possible speed, so great is the demand at the present time.

QUEEN MOTHER ALEXANDRA IS LAID AT REST

LIES WITHIN HALLOWED DEATH CHAMBERS OF OLD WINDSOR

"SEA KING'S DAUGHTER" RESTS NEAR HER HUSBAND, KING EDWARD

London, Nov. 28.—Canon Herbert F. Westlake, custodian of Westminister Abbey, is dead following his participation in the services for Queen Mother Alexandra in the Abbey yesterday.

By CLIFFORD E. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Windsor, England, Nov. 28.—Queen Mother Alexandra rests within the hallowed death chambers of old Windsor.

Near where her husband, King Edward, lies and where a half dozen other kings and queens are buried, the beloved "Sea King's Daughter" was committed to the dust today.

King George, Queen Mary and other kinsfolk of the dowager queen participated in the simple private services in the seclusion of Albert Memorial chapel this forenoon. The simplicity of the final rites stood in contrast to the pomp of London, where yesterday her body had lain in state in Westminister Abbey while thousands passed in mourful silnece to look upon her face.

The dean of Windsor officiated at today's rites, the Anglican committal service, omitted yesterday from Westminister's impressive ceremonies, was said over her casket; two hymns, 'How' Blest Are They" and "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er," were sung and then the royal family took its sad farewell.

The casket had been removed from Westminister at 7 A. M. and taken by motor hearse to Windsor. At midnight they had closed the Abbey doors while a queue two miles long shivering in the trail of a storm, waited for a chance to pay tribute at her bier. Murmurs of disappointment arose, for the throngs had anticipated that the Abbey would be open the entire night to admit more than the 60,000 who had passed already at midnight.

Great heaps of flowers were sent to Windsor and these the public were permitted to view after the committal service. Included were offerings from far off corners of the world. The emperor and empress of Japan's wreath was there and others were from the Khan of Bhophal and Marshall Tuan of China.

But it was not only the titled who honored the beloved queen mother with their floral offerings for in the great mass of lavish flowers were some wisps sent from poorer folk. There was for instance a single rose which bore the card:

"For our devoted mother—sweet rose of Britain."

(signed) Loyal Subject."

And it epitomized the spirit of the empire at the queen mother's death.

No Innovation in Laws Is Needed by Farmers

Washington, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The farmers need no innovation in legislation but "simply the common sense application of old principles to new conditions," Sen. Gerald Nye, Nonpartisan leader of North Dakota, declared here today in his first statement since his appointment to office. Nye declared the people of his state were glad that President Coolidge has announced his intention of seeking legislation to aid cooperative marketing. He did not criticize the president.

TWO STATES IN HUNT FOR TWO WOMEN BANDITS

Renner, S. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Authorities of two states joined today in the hunt for two women bandits who held up the First National Bank here, walked out with $500 in cash and escaped in a worn-out touring car with only a ten minute start on pursuers.

The women, shabbily dressed and thought to have been about 25 and 35 years old, calmly walked into the bank yesterday at a slack business hour, held up H. S. Wilkerson, cashier, with all the assurance of seasoned criminals, ransacked the money drawer and escaped.

A fast car carrying two armed men was on the trail within 10 minutes. Authorities in neighboring towns were notified. But today no trace had been found. It is believed the women doubled on their tracks after first heading south for Sioux Falls.

GEORGE HURLEY PLEADS NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED

St. Paul, Nov. 28.—(UP)—George Hurley, indicted for murder on a charge of complicity in the slaying of Burton Stevens, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today.

Stevens was shot down in a bootleg war last winter. Ben and Abe Gleeman were convicted for the crime and sentenced to life imprisonment at Stillwater penitentiary. Last week their appeal for a new trial was denied.

Counsel for the Gleemans have maintained that Hurley knows the real slayer of Stevens. It is charged he drove the car in which the murderers escaped. If Hurley does testify that the Gleemans were not guilty of the killing, their case will be appealed to the supreme court, it was said.

Hurley's case was continued a week to allow time for his counsel to file whatever motion they wish. The trial date was set for Dec. 10.

GOV. MA FERGUSON SCORES 'HIGHBROWS' OF TEXAS STATE

Austin, Texas., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any person worth more than $5,000 for violating the prohibition laws, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a formal statement scoring the "highbrows" of Texas.

She characterized the prohibition law as one "for the rich and against the poor."

She declared in her statement that rich people in Texas were daily violating the prohibition laws, "and boasting about it," while the penitentiary was being filled with "poor devils who carried a mere pint on their hip."

The governor made scathing remarks about judges who drank liquor themselves and sentenced home brew makers to the penitentiary. She said in effect if the rich were to be allowed to go free for liquor violations and the poor sent to the penitentiary "then justice becomes a mockery and law becomes a stench in the nostrils of all law-abiding citizens."

The governor challenged the Methodists of the state to get out and help clean up the liquor joints saying there would then not be any call to issue so many pardons. At the state convention recently there Methodists state conference passed resolutions condemning the Ferguson pardon record. The woman governor asserted her funds were limited but that she would use every cent available to continue the reward.

INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW OPENS AT CHICAGO

ARISTOCRACY OF THE LIVESTOCK WORLD IS ASSEMBLED THERE

MORE THAN 12,000 "TRUE BLUE BLOODS" STRAIN AT HALTERS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Wearing the blue ribbons that mark them as the aristocracy of the livestock world, more than 12,000 "true blue bloods" pulled at halter ropes here today, awaiting the coming of nightfall when they begin tramping sawdust rings in the 26th annual International Livestock Show. They are quartered in big buildings by the stockyards close to where many of their kind are slaughtered daily.

Experience—almost every animal is a veteran of many shows—seems to have taught them to foretell what is about to happen. They seem to know that the manicuring of hoofs, the brushing and curling of silky hair, the burnishing of hoofs, means that they are again about to enter into competition.

Among the cattle a huge white shorthorn bull stands out from the mass because of his size. His name is "King fo the Fairies." He is the property of the Prince of Wales. He is an undefeated champion, but his snortings are no more refined than those that emanate from the lowliest barnyard.

Cattle head by far the total number of entries, with swine second, sheep third and horses fourth.

Thirty different breeds of livestock as well as various cross breeds are represented among the contestants. They come from almost every state and Canadian province and most of them are descendants of stock originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand and Australia. Seven foreign judges from three continents will assist in the judging.

In yesterday's judging contests the Minnesota junior team won third place. It was rated first in the horse judging section and scored in other departments to win its place in the final tabulations.

The team is composed of three Steele county boys, all members of livestock clubs. They are: Charles and John Chambers and Wayne Jones.

Minnesota also has a team entered in the collegiate class today.

PRELIMINARY SPARRING FOR POSITION IN S. D.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Preliminary sparring for position in the republican state proposal fight started here today with the arrival of leading candidates for office.

Senator Peter Norbeck, candidate for re-election to his seat, and George Danforth, Sioux Falls, leading opponent, are both on the ground. Danforth arrived last night with the Minnehaha delegation, the big voting bloc of the convention.

George Wright, chairman of the state control committee, has also arrived to conduct his fightf or re-election to the state post.

Delegations are expected to straggle into the battle scene all day but the great majority will not arrive until tomorrow night. The convention proper does not get under way until Tuesday.

The most heated conflict is expected to be the battle for canvention control between Governor Carl Gunderson and Senator Norbeck. Both are expected to win nominations to succeed themselves.

By RANDALL GOULD

Peking, Nov. 28. — Foreign and Chinese guards in the legation quarter were strengthened today and new barbed wire barriers were placed in anticipation of great student demonstrations advocating a radical treaty abolition program. The proposed move appeared to be a recrudescence of the demonstrations of last summer when the student and striker elements sought removal of what they termed unequal foreign treaties.

It was rumored that soldiers were distributing arms and that a general strike was being fomented.

A major clash between rebels and forces of Chang Tso Lin in the north was reported imminent.

When captured in a culvert paralleling a woodland near Holland last night the man carried a blood stained hammer and an old sack filled with newspapers, according to the police. August resisted capture, brandishing his hammer and crying inarticulately when surrounded, officers declared.

3 EVENTS ARE VICTORIES FOR FIERY COLONEL

PACIFIC ISLANDS ADMITTED TO BE OPEN TO ATTACK

LIEUT.-COL. PAEGELOW SAYS ARMY GENERAL STAFF POOR DIRECTOR OF AIR SERVICE

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Army prosecutors in the court martial trial of Col. William Mitchell today abandoned plans to attend the Army-Navy football game in New York and gave added attention to their preparations for next week.

The court reconvenes Monday.

Three events in the prosecution's opening session yesterday were regarded today as victories for the turbulent air critic.

The stormiest moments since the trial began five weeks ago came when Representative Frank Reid, Mitchell's counsel, overheard Brig. Gen. Edwin L. King, court member, characterize Reid's cross questioning of a witness as "damm rot."

General King apologized to Reid after the court had recessed.

The only two prosecution witnesses both high ranking officers, who were umpires of the Hawaiian maneuvers last summer, admitted under cross examination by Mitchell that the Pacific Islands were open to attack.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28. — The army general staff is incompetent to supervise the air service, according to Lieut. Col. John A. Paegelow, commandant at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.

Col. Paegelow, a close personal friend of Col. William Mitchell, made this statement at a closed meeting of the Associated Engineering Societies of St. Louis.

"Mitchell and not the general staff is the logical judge of air defense conditions," he said. He referred to the recent Shenandoah disaster and contended that faulty engineering was the cause of the dirigible's collapse.

"Change the siresses and strains in the structure of a building and it will topple. The same was true of the Shenandoah. And then in its weakened condition it was sent aloft without parachutes. Commander Lansdowne knew what was wrong with the Shenandoah and protested. But like a good soldier he obeyed orders and set out on what he felt might be his last flight," Paegelow told the engineers.

He said he was not in favor of divorcing the air service from the army but it certainly was necessary that the air service should be managed by aircraft experts.

SLAYER OF TWO GETS TWO LIFE SENTENCES IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Walter Krauser, slayer of two, today was given two life sentences to run concurrently, in the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet.

Krauser entered a plea of guilty after prosecutors had agreed to a life sentence, it was said.

He was implicated in the killing of Ralph Souders nearly two years ago and he and Bernard Grant were subsequently sentenced to death for the crime.

One afternoon during jail visiting hours, Krauser suddenly leaped on Grant and stabbed him to death with a knife before he could be pulled away.

Judge John P. McGoorty passed sentence.

St. Paul, Nov. 28.—(UP)—George Hurley, indicted for murder on a charge of complicity in the slaying of Burton Stevens, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today.

Stevens was shot down in a bootleg war last winter. Ben and Abe Gleeman were convicted for the crime and sentenced to life imprisonment at Stillwater penitentiary. Last week their appeal for a new trial was denied.

Counsel for the Gleemans have maintained that Hurley knows the real slayer of Stevens. It is charged he drove the car in which the murderers escaped. If Hurley does testify that the Gleemans were not guilty of the killing, their case will be appealed to the supreme court, it was said.

Hurley's case was continued a week to allow time for his counsel to file whatever motion they wish. The trial date was set for Dec. 10.

GOV. MA FERGUSON SCORES 'HIGHBROWS' OF TEXAS STATE

Austin, Texas., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any person worth more than $5,000 for violating the prohibition laws, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a formal statement scoring the "highbrows" of Texas.

She characterized the prohibition law as one "for the rich and against the poor."

She declared in her statement that rich people in Texas were daily violating the prohibition laws, "and boasting about it," while the penitentiary was being filled with "poor devils who carried a mere pint on their hip."

The governor made scathing remarks about judges who drank liquor themselves and sentenced home brew makers to the penitentiary. She said in effect if the rich were to be allowed to go free for liquor violations and the poor sent to the penitentiary "then justice becomes a mockery and law becomes a stench in the nostrils of all law-abiding citizens."

The governor challenged the Methodists of the state to get out and help clean up the liquor joints saying there would then not be any call to issue so many pardons. At the state convention recently there Methodists state conference passed resolutions condemning the Ferguson pardon record. The woman governor asserted her funds were limited but that she would use every cent available to continue the reward.

INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW OPENS AT CHICAGO

ARISTOCRACY OF THE LIVESTOCK WORLD IS ASSEMBLED THERE

MORE THAN 12,000 "TRUE BLUE BLOODS" STRAIN AT HALTERS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Wearing the blue ribbons that mark them as the aristocracy of the livestock world, more than 12,000 "true blue bloods" pulled at halter ropes here today, awaiting the coming of nightfall when they begin tramping sawdust rings in the 26th annual International Livestock Show. They are quartered in big buildings by the stockyards close to where many of their kind are slaughtered daily.

Experience—almost every animal is a veteran of many shows—seems to have taught them to foretell what is about to happen. They seem to know that the manicuring of hoofs, the brushing and curling of silky hair, the burnishing of hoofs, means that they are again about to enter into competition.

Among the cattle a huge white shorthorn bull stands out from the mass because of his size. His name is "King fo the Fairies." He is the property of the Prince of Wales. He is an undefeated champion, but his snortings are no more refined than those that emanate from the lowliest barnyard.

Cattle head by far the total number of entries, with swine second, sheep third and horses fourth.

Thirty different breeds of livestock as well as various cross breeds are represented among the contestants. They come from almost every state and Canadian province and most of them are descendants of stock originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand and Australia. Seven foreign judges from three continents will assist in the judging.

In yesterday's judging contests the Minnesota junior team won third place. It was rated first in the horse judging section and scored in other departments to win its place in the final tabulations.

The team is composed of three Steele county boys, all members of livestock clubs. They are: Charles and John Chambers and Wayne Jones.

Minnesota also has a team entered in the collegiate class today.

PRELIMINARY SPARRING FOR POSITION IN S. D.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Preliminary sparring for position in the republican state proposal fight started here today with the arrival of leading candidates for office.

Senator Peter Norbeck, candidate for re-election to his seat, and George Danforth, Sioux Falls, leading opponent, are both on the ground. Danforth arrived last night with the Minnehaha delegation, the big voting bloc of the convention.

George Wright, chairman of the state control committee, has also arrived to conduct his fightf or re-election to the state post.

Delegations are expected to straggle into the battle scene all day but the great majority will not arrive until tomorrow night. The convention proper does not get under way until Tuesday.

The most heated conflict is expected to be the battle for canvention control between Governor Carl Gunderson and Senator Norbeck. Both are expected to win nominations to succeed themselves.

STRENGTHENS THE GUARDS AT PEKING TODAY

FOREIGN LEGATIONS PUT UP BARBED WIRE BARRIERS

GREAT STUDENT DEMONSTRATIONS EXPECTED TO CAUSE TROUBLE

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, Nov. 28. — Foreign and Chinese guards in the legation quarter were strengthened today and new barbed wire barriers were placed in anticipation of great student demonstrations advocating a radical treaty abolition program. The proposed move appeared to be a recrudescence of the demonstrations of last summer when the student and striker elements sought removal of what they termed unequal foreign treaties.

It was rumored that soldiers were distributing arms and that a general strike was being fomented.

A major clash between rebels and forces of Chang Tso Lin in the north was reported imminent.

TOLEDO THINKS THAT IT HAS ITS CLUB WIELDER

MAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY WHO ANSWERS GENERAL DESCRIPTON

CARRIED BLOOD STAINED HAMMER AND SACK FILLED WITH NEWSPAPERS

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A man who gave his name as "Robert August" and answers the general description of the Toledo club wielder, who struck down nine women here, two of whom were found dead, was held by police today.

When captured in a culvert paralleling a woodland near Holland last night the man carried a blood stained hammer and an old sack filled with newspapers, according to the police. August resisted capture, brandishing his hammer and crying inarticulately when surrounded, officers declared.

The man was discovered by two hunters, who when seeing the blood stained hammer, attempted to capture him. He fled and the hunters, Stanley Novak and Charles Pizzony, fearing treachery, returned to Toledo and notified the authorities.

At the time of his enlistment, Dodash said his brother, George, lived in St. Paul and another brother, Andrew, and sister, Mary, lived in St. Cloud. That was in 1917. Stephen is now living in Cedar Grove, Louisiana.

3 EVENTS ARE VICTORIES FOR FIERY COLONEL

PACIFIC ISLANDS ADMITTED TO BE OPEN TO ATTACK

LIEUT.-COL. PAEGELOW SAYS ARMY GENERAL STAFF POOR DIRECTOR OF AIR SERVICE

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Army prosecutors in the court martial trial of Col. William Mitchell today abandoned plans to attend the Army-Navy football game in New York and gave added attention to their preparations for next week.

The court reconvenes Monday.

Three events in the prosecution's opening session yesterday were regarded today as victories for the turbulent air critic.

The stormiest moments since the trial began five weeks ago came when Representative Frank Reid, Mitchell's counsel, overheard Brig. Gen. Edwin L. King, court member, characterize Reid's cross questioning of a witness as "damm rot."

General King apologized to Reid after the court had recessed.

The only two prosecution witnesses both high ranking officers, who were umpires of the Hawaiian maneuvers last summer, admitted under cross examination by Mitchell that the Pacific Islands were open to attack.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28. — The army general staff is incompetent to supervise the air service, according to Lieut. Col. John A. Paegelow, commandant at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.

Col. Paegelow, a close personal friend of Col. William Mitchell, made this statement at a closed meeting of the Associated Engineering Societies of St. Louis.

"Mitchell and not the general staff is the logical judge of air defense conditions," he said. He referred to the recent Shenandoah disaster and contended that faulty engineering was the cause of the dirigible's collapse.

"Change the siresses and strains in the structure of a building and it will topple. The same was true of the Shenandoah. And then in its weakened condition it was sent aloft without parachutes. Commander Lansdowne knew what was wrong with the Shenandoah and protested. But like a good soldier he obeyed orders and set out on what he felt might be his last flight," Paegelow told the engineers.

He said he was not in favor of divorcing the air service from the army but it certainly was necessary that the air service should be managed by aircraft experts.

SLAYER OF TWO GETS TWO LIFE SENTENCES IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Walter Krauser, slayer of two, today was given two life sentences to run concurrently, in the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet.

Krauser entered a plea of guilty after prosecutors had agreed to a life sentence, it was said.

He was implicated in the killing of Ralph Souders nearly two years ago and he and Bernard Grant were subsequently sentenced to death for the crime.

One afternoon during jail visiting hours, Krauser suddenly leaped on Grant and stabbed him to death with a knife before he could be pulled away.

Judge John P. McGoorty passed sentence.

ACTIVITY IN POLITICAL CIRCLES OF NORTH DAKOTA

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—First activity in the 1926 North Dakota political campaign was presaged here today with the issuance of a call by Judge B. F. Spaulding, chairman of the "real" Republican central committee, for a meeting Dec. 3

Matters preliminary to the campaign next year will be considered by the committee. One of the principal considerations will be a spring convention to endorse caadidates for the primary.

The committee is designated as "real" to distinguish it from the elected Republican committee which is Nonpartisan in majority. The body headed by Spaulding is recognized by the national committee.

CONFIDENT RHINELANDER WILL WIN CASE

BELIEVE NO JURY WOULD COMPEL HIM TO LIVE WITH MULATTO

EVIDENCE IN TRIAL SO FAR, HOWEVER, SEEMS AGAINST PLAINTIFF

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 28.—(UP) — Leonard Kip Rhinelander will win his suit for annulment of his marriage to a partly colored bride, the people of White Plains believe and so confident are they that odds as high as five to one are being offered on Kip.

They argue that no jury would compel a member of the aristocratic Rhinelander family to live with the mulatto daughter of a taxi driver.

The betting favors Kip despite the fact that all concede that evidence in the trial to date has gone almost entirely against him and has favored Mrs. Rhinelander.

The case on Monday will enter the final stages.

MURDER OR ABDUCTION HINTED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 28. — (UP)—Murder or abduction was hinted today in various quarters as explanation for the sudden disappearance this week of the Rev. Knute B. Birkeland, former Lutheran pastor.

Birkeland was involved as plaintiff in an $8,000 law suit. He had filed suit against an attorney for a judgment said to have arisen from dealings in oil stock.

On Tuesday, Birkeland was in court while a jury was drawn. From the court room he went to the office of his attorney, G. S. Grimes. That was the last seen of him.

His automobile was noticed Tuesday night by police. It was tightly locked. On Thursday when the disappearance was reported, the car stood in the same place, still locked, but with the cushions differently arranged.

Today Grimes said he feared foul play. Birkeland's family also expressed misgivings for his safety. They have offered $1,000 reward for information leading to Birkeland's safe return.

Another brother is an executive of the same firm's Minneapolis Branch. A third is office manager for the Fargo Ford Agency.

"Dakotans" make good everywhere. Lissa Flom, in California for the winter, is secretary to a Los Angeles lawyer. Watch results. "Follow the $ucce$$ful." Dec. 7 term saves weeks. Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo.

NEW STORE IS STARTED IN CITY

Consumers Wholesale Supply Co. Opened Business at 711 Laurel St.

EMMET HULL IN CHARGE

District Manager P. M. Sandstrom Supervised Opening of Establishment

The Consumers Wholesale Supply Company today opened their new store in the building formerly occupied by the Grey Shoppe. P. M. Sandstrom of Minneapolis, district manager, supervised the opening. Emmet Hull of Minneapolis will be in charge and with his past experience in the grocery business, he comes well prepared to give prompt and efficient service to the public. Mr. Hull is married, but does not contemplate moving his family here at present.

N. M. CONSTANS

Five years ago, beginning with one store and three employees, N. M. Constans, president of the company now has a chain of around 80 stores, the nearest one to this city being at St. Cloud. He has about 32 stores in and around Duluth and the balance are scattered throughout the southern part of the state with some in the Dakotas and Wisconsin.

The unprecedented growth is due entirely to Mr. Constans' unswerving policy of strictly high quality merchandise, lowest possible prices, fair, honest dealing and prompt, courteous and considerate treatment to the customer at all times. This combined with low operating expense, no credit losses and rapid stock turnover help to make the store a success, it is claimed.

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH MINNESOTA FIGHTS HIGH RATES

Owatonna, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP) —All cities and villages in southern Minnesota today were invited to join the seven cities comprising the southern Minnesota traffic association in its fight on increased freight rates.

At a meeting of the association here, plans were laid for presentation of evidence at the two hearings to be held within the next ten days. At the same time it was decided to invite co-operation of non-member cities.

The hearings for which strength of southern cities is being mustered are the Interstate Commerce commission at St. Paul Monday and the Railroad and Warehouse commission Dec. 7. Both will be told that increased freight rates in southern Minnesota will have a stunning affect upon business and argiculture.

WILD BANDS OF DRUSES IN VILLAGE RAIDS

FRENCH REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE TO DRIVE THEM BACK INTO MOUNTAINS

GIGANTIC TASK AWAITS NEW FRENCH HIGH COMMISSIONER

By JOHN O'BRIEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Beirut, Syria, Nov. 28. — Wild bands of Druses continued their sporadic raids upon villages throughout the south here today. Sufficient French reinforcements to drive the rebel Druses back into their mountain fastnesses have arrived in Syria, however, and it is expected that they will soon move to put an end to the guerilla warfare of pillage and raid.

Upon his arrival here, the new French high commissioner, M. De Jouvenal, will find a gigantic task awaiting him. In a military sense the difficulty in Syria closely resembles that in Morocco and both have caused France no little worry.

The future of the country depends upon the nature of the "organic statute" which is to be presented to the League of Nations. The Syrians continue to demand the right of self government, with the high commissioner limited to an advisory capacity, while the French believe that the Syrians are not yet ready to govern their own affairs.

The Druse warriors, like the Riffians, show almost fanatical ferocity, believing as they do that the soul of every warrior killed in the battle with the Christians is immediately re-born in the body of a lion. Approximately six thousand of these fighters are still in the field.

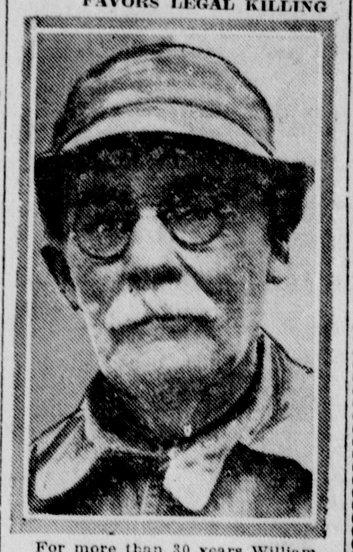

WM. BRANDT QUESTIONED ON SLAYING OF BOY

Stillwater, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Adolph Kramer, Milwaukee detective, and a group of St. Paul officers arrived here today to question William Brandt, confessed boy slayer serving life sentence at the state penitentiary.

Brandt was sentenced to a life term for the murder of Francis Pioletti, 11-year-old boy. This week he told prison officials he also murdered Arthur Schumacher, 9-year-old Wauwatisa, Wis., lad.

Wisconsin authorities have doubted the Schumacher confession because some of the facts in the case were distorted. St. Paul police, however, believed the statement substantially true. They said Brandt would be confronted with a third boy murder also.

FARMER-POET, IN SAME POSITION AS DR. BLAZER FAVORS LEGAL KILLING

For more than 30 years William Whitby, farmer-poet of Wichita, Kans., has been attending to the comfort of his boy, Rolla, who at the age of three fell from a barn lot and became a helpless cripple. He is not able to move or speak. Mrs. Whitby died some years ago and since then Whitby has cared for the boy. Whitby sympathized with Dr. Blazer, while the physician was on trial for poisoning his imbecile daughter, and expressed the opinion that were he faced by the same crisis that confronted Dr. Blazer he would have taken the same action. The farmer-poet favors a legal method by which imbeciles could be eliminated through a painless scientific method.

CONFIDENT RHINELANDER WILL WIN CASE

BELIEVE NO JURY WOULD COMPEL HIM TO LIVE WITH MULATTO

EVIDENCE IN TRIAL SO FAR, HOWEVER, SEEMS AGAINST PLAINTIFF

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 28.—(UP) — Leonard Kip Rhinelander will win his suit for annulment of his marriage to a partly colored bride, the people of White Plains believe and so confident are they that odds as high as five to one are being offered on Kip.

They argue that no jury would compel a member of the aristocratic Rhinelander family to live with the mulatto daughter of a taxi driver.

The betting favors Kip despite the fact that all concede that evidence in the trial to date has gone almost entirely against him and has favored Mrs. Rhinelander.

The case on Monday will enter the final stages.

MURDER OR ABDUCTION HINTED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 28. —(UP)—Murder or abduction was hinted today in various quarters as explanation for the sudden disappearance this week of the Rev. Knute B. Birkeland, former Lutheran pastor.

Birkeland was involved as plaintiff in an $8,000 law suit. He had filed suit against an attorney for a judgment said to have arisen from dealings in oil stock.

On Tuesday, Birkeland was in court while a jury was drawn. From the court room he went to the office of his attorney, G. S. Grimes. That was the last seen of him.

His automobile was noticed Tuesday night by police. It was tightly locked. On Thursday when the disappearance was reported, the car stood in the same place, still locked, but with the cushions differently arranged.

Today Grimes said he feared foul play. Birkeland's family also expressed misgivings for his safety. They have offered $1,000 reward for information leading to Birkeland's safe return.

EMMET HULL IN CHARGE

District Manager P. M. Sandstrom Supervised Opening of Establishment

The Consumers Wholesale Supply Company today opened their new store in the building formerly occupied by the Grey Shoppe. P. M. Sandstrom of Minneapolis, district manager, supervised the opening. Emmet Hull of Minneapolis will be in charge and with his past experience in the grocery business, he comes well prepared to give prompt and efficient service to the public. Mr. Hull is married, but does not contemplate moving his family here at present.

N. M. CONSTANS

Five years ago, beginning with one store and three employees, N. M. Constans, president of the company now has a chain of around 80 stores, the nearest one to this city being at St. Cloud. He has about 32 stores in and around Duluth and the balance are scattered throughout the southern part of the state with some in the Dakotas and Wisconsin.

The unprecedented growth is due entirely to Mr. Constans' unswerving policy of strictly high quality merchandise, lowest possible prices, fair, honest dealing and prompt, courteous and considerate treatment to the customer at all times. This combined with low operating expense, no credit losses and rapid stock turnover help to make the store a success, it is claimed.

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH MINNESOTA FIGHTS HIGH RATES

Owatonna, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP) —All cities and villages in southern Minnesota today were invited to join the seven cities comprising the southern Minnesota traffic association in its fight on increased freight rates.

At a meeting of the association here, plans were laid for presentation of evidence at the two hearings to beh eld within the next ten days. At the same time it was decided to invite co-operation of non-member cities.

The hearings for which strength of southern cities is being mustered are the Interstate Commerce commission at St. Paul Monday and the Railroad and Warehouse commission Dec. 7. Both will be told that increased freight rates in southern Minnesota will have a stunning affect upon business and argiculture.

WILD BANDS OF DRUSES IN VILLAGE RAIDS

FRENCH REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE TO DRIVE THEM BACK INTO MOUNTAINS

GIGANTIC TASK AWAITS NEW FRENCH HIGH COMMISSIONER

By JOHN O'BRIEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Beirut, Syria, Nov. 28. — Wild bands of Druses continued their sporadic raids upon villages throughout the south here today. Sufficient French reinforcements to drive the rebel Druses back into their mountain fastnesses have arrived in Syria, however, and it is expected that they will soon move to put an end to the guerilla warfare of pillage and raid.

Upon his arrival here, the new French high commissioner, M. De Jouvenal, will find a gigantic task awaiting him. In a military sense the difficulty in Syria closely resembles that in Morocco and both have caused France no little worry.

The future of the country depends upon the nature of the "organic statute" which is to be presented to the League of Nations. The Syrians continue to demand the right of self government, with the high commissioner limited to an advisory capacity, while the French believe that the Syrians are not yet ready to govern their own affairs.

The Druse warriors, like the Riffians, show almost fanatical ferocity, believing as they do that the soul of every warrior killed in the battle with the Christians is immediately re-born in the body of a lion. Approximately six thousand of these fighters are still in the field.

WM. BRANDT QUESTIONED ON SLAYING OF BOY

Stillwater, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Adolph Kramer, Milwaukee detective, and a group of St. Paul officers arrived here today to question William Brandt, confessed boy slayer serving life sentence at the state penitentiary.

Brandt was sentenced to a life term for the murder of Francis Pioletti, 11-year-old boy. This week he told prison officials he also murdered Arthur Schumacher, 9-year-old Wauwatisa, Wis., lad.

Wisconsin authorities have doubted the Schumacher confession because some of the facts in the case were distorted. St. Paul police, however, believed the statement substantially true. They said Brandt would be confronted with a third boy murder also.

FARMER-POET, IN SAME POSITION AS DR. BLAZER FAVORS LEGAL KILLING

For more than 30 years William Whitby, farmer-poet of Wichita, Kans., has been attending to the comfort of his boy, Rolla, who at the age of three fell from a barn lot and became a helpless cripple. He is not able to move or speak. Mrs. Whitby died some years ago and since then Whitby has cared for the boy. Whitby sympathized with Dr. Blazer, while the physician was on trial for poisoning his imbecile daughter, and expressed the opinion that were he faced by the same crisis that confronted Dr. Blazer he would have taken the same action. The farmer-poet favors a legal method by which imbeciles could be eliminated through a painless scientific method.

NEW YORK IS NOT ALL OF AMERICA

NEW YORK is only a small part of America and does not express the sentiment of the whole United States. This very potent fact was ascertained by the members of the French debt-funding commission.

Before they went to Washington members of the American Women's club in Paris persisted in the view that America was really anxious to wipe out the whole French war debt owing the United States. Subsequent negotiations in America brought the truth to the commissioners that such a view of the financial situation was an entirely erroneous one.

Stephen Lauzanne, a well known journalist of the Matin had this to say to the American club women previously referred to, in Paris: "You ladies committed as bad a blunder here in Paris as we (the commissioners) did in talking too much in Washington. In your sympathies you had always given us a false idea of this matter. You gave us the impression that the debt would be wiped out. Perhaps your wishes are the wishes of New York, but you had forgotten to remind us that New York is only a small part of America."

FARM LANDS IN CROW WING COUNTY

THERE never was a better time than right now to buy farm land in Crow Wing county. Prices are reasonable. The county is growing, the farmers are adding many improvements, roads are being built to new sections, creameries and other industries are flourishing.

County rural schools set a high standard. Markets for products are easily reached, and in summer the constantly increasing tourist business gives the farmer a growing cash market. Improved farms can be bought and unimproved ones too. This county has more advantages than many a western area. The only difference is that the western land market is advertised to the limit.

Visit our county agent. He will give you concrete records of what can be raised in our county. He has reports of crops raised, the kind which thrive best. He has creamery and poultry statistics at his fingers' ends.

OPTIMISM IS KEYNOTE OF SUCCESS

OPTIMISM is the keynote of success in dealing with present day problems, said Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan, in an address delivered at Minneapolis.

"The world will be just as safe in the hands of the present younger generation as it was in the generation of 2,000 years ago," he said. "They will assume their responsibilities just as their forbearers did when the time arrives."

The younger generation knows more than the present generation did when it was young. And coupled with it all is the fact that our young people of today have a practical side. One thing is assured, if they attack their ultimate life work as assiduously as their present play time activities, they will be a bigger success than the old timers of today.

BE LOYAL TO YOUR TOWN

IF you live and do business in a town, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, for heaven's sake be loyal to it. If this town furnishes you with food and shelter, boost it; speak well of it; stand by it; and stand by the industries it represents.

If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a ton of clever knocking. If you must villify, and condemn and eternally disparage, pack your trunk and get out, and when you are outside knock to your heart's content. But as long as you are a part of a community, be a real man; do not condemn it. If you do, you lose the tendrils that hold you as a part of the community, and when the first high wind comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away; and probably you will never know the reason why.

MANY a country editor speeded his presses in order to enjoy his Thanksgiving Day dinner. The Walker Pilot, for instance, says: "This issue (Nov. 28) may be a trifle short of local news. We are going to press half a day earlier in order that the Pilot crew may have at least half a day to return thanks."

ARRANGEMENTS have been perfected for a meeting of members of the Sixth District American Legion to be held at Little Falls on Thursday, December 3. This is the first of a series of such meetings which will be held throughout the district.

THE beginning of winter was officially marked on THE DISPATCH calendar yesterday and action taken accordingly by removing our screen door equipment and inserting the storm door section in the requisite panel.

WE believe that a lot of these amnesia cases are simply people who wish to get a rest. Worried about something or other, they go to strange places, lose their identity in the crowd and "rest up."

WE hear of a farmer near Pine River, who suffered in the farm depression some years ago, but who this fall "cleaned up" $50,000 on potatoes and again landed on "easy street."

WE hear of engineers being able to reduce city noises. These noise engineers should also broaden their sphere to include noise reduction in flivvers, typewriters, static, etc.

WEIGHT reduction, says an expert, is chiefly a matter of self-control as regards diet. And, he might have added, self-control also in proper exercise.

THERE'S one consolation in young Senator La Follette, says the Staples World. He can't behave any worse than they expect him to.

WHAT we need is a child labor law to keep them from working their parents to death, says the Columbia Record.

Spanish Brought the Orange Into America

The orange was originally a native of India, South China or the Malay archipelago. But its Hindu or Sanskrit name was long ago influenced by the Latin word "aurum," or the French "or," meaning gold; and the whole tradition of the orange, as it has come down to us, is through the medium of Moorish splendor and Spanish luxury.

The proud Spaniard did not carry apples with him on his conquests, but he did take the orange and the lemon. The former especially came to grace the festive board of grandees; and if any time oranges were lacking at his fiestas, the fastest dispatch riders were sent to far-away missions to bring back the coveted fruit.

Although the commercial growth of oranges did not begin until the completion of the Southern Pacific to New Orleans in 1881, and received further impetus when the Santa Fe was built through in 1885, the first trees were taken to what is now our Southwest by the early mission fathers. The Franciscan monks who emigrated from Lower California in 1769 brought various semi-tropical fruits with them; and of twenty-one missions, it is said that all but three had gardens and orchards.—Albert W. Atwood, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Love at First Hand Great Thing in Life

First love comes before the age of knowledge. It is the only love entirely unencumbered with ideas and preconceptions. How little it has to do with words, with talk! It knows no terms. It is the thing itself from which terms and institutions have grown up. First lovers get love at first hand, instead of getting first the idea of romance into which to try to fit themselves and other people, Louise Townsend Nicoll writes, in the Century. They seldom talk. They get acquainted in other ways—by being near each other, by looking at each other, by softly, shyly touching hands. They do things together—play games, run races. As watchful as small animals, they learn minutely each about the other. But they do not talk.

They give each other things, always in fair exchange, and wear them out with carrying about. When they must know facts to supplement their findings, they ask—short, blunt questions. Opinion and discussion have little play.

Made Millions Laugh

The real name of the famous circus clown, Dan Rice, was Daniel McLaren and he was nicknamed as a child for an old Irish clown. He began his professional career as an acrobat and clown with Seth B. Howe, circus owner, 1845. He was a partner in Spaulding's circus until the outbreak of the Civil war. After the Civil war he was financially unfortunate, but was engaged by Adam Forepaugh at a salary of $35,000 a year, afterward increased to $1,000 a week. He retired from the stage in 1882. He was exceedingly lavish with money for charity. On one occasion he gave President Lincoln $32,000 for the benefit of wounded soldiers and their dependents. He died in February, 1900.

Mythical Greek Hero

In Greek mythology Adonis was a beautiful young boy, beloved by Venus and Proserpine. They quarreled about his possession, but the dispute was settled by Jupiter, who decreed that Adonis should annually spend eight months with Venus in the upper world and four months with Proserpine in the lower world. Adonis was fatally wounded by a wild boar, during the chase, and was changed by Venus into an anemone. She yearly mourned him on the anniversary of his death. Shakespeare has commemorated the love of Venus for Adonis in a long descriptive poem entitled "Venus and Adonis."—Kansas City Times.

Skunks Prey on Bees

The biological survey says that skunks have the reputation of eating yellow jackets and bumblebees. It is generally supposed that the juicy larvae of these is most appreciated, but the adults are also eaten and probably the honey stored by bumblebees. The skunk approaches the yellow jackets' nest cautiously and scratches on the outside of it until its occupants rush from the entrance to repel the intruder. The skunk shows much skill in capturing the insects and in dislodging them from his long hair, where many cling. He pays little attention to their stings.

Earliest Egyptians

Further discoveries of a new prehistoric people, who came long before the later prehistoric Egyptians, have been made. This people, according to Sir Flinders Petrie, the director of the British School of Archeology in Egypt, may be the earliest inhabitants of the country with a regular civilization. They may be identified with the race which occupied the deserts of Egypt and Palestine in a less arid period.

The Shawl

The shawl first was introduced into Europe at the time of Napoleon's return from Egypt, where he was fascinated by the alluring garments worn so lavishly by the orientals. It is said that he bought for the Empress Josephine over four hundred of these shawls at one time, and that one of his caprices was that he should never see the same shawl upon her shoulders twice in succession.

GIVE HIM THE GIRL, PA

Mr. Neurich was in the worst possible frame of mind to receive the would-be son-in-law and his reply was decidedly negative.

"But," said the young man, "what is your objection to me as a suitor for your daughter's hand?"

"My principal objection is that you cannot keep her in the style in which she has been brought up."

"Oh!" said the youth, "At any rate, I can start her on bread and milk, the same as you did."—Brockton Call.

Father—Where did you get the money?

Father—Go and tell her you made a mistake and I'll give you 50 cents.

Of Course Not

"John," said his wife, "I saw you an hour ago and you were looking at all the young girls."

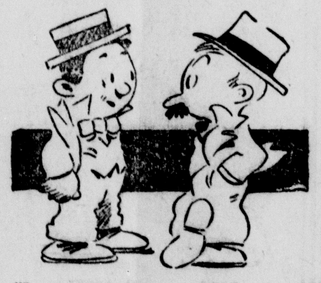

"I was looking for you, my dear. You wouldn't expect me to look for you among the old frumps."

On the Contrary

"Young man," said the nervous pedestrian, "do you toot that motor horn in order to scare people?"

"No," answered Mr. Chuggins, "I toot it to let them know how scared I am."

LEAVE IT TO THEM

Deputy Regional Executive Visits Brainerd

F. B. Monson, Deputy Regional Executive of the Boy Scouts of America for the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, is spending Friday and Saturday here in conference with the Scout Executive. Mr. Monson coming here from the outside is able to look over the conditions here and as an outsider to offer many constructive and helpful suggestions to help with the work here. This type of thing gives to Scouting the strength and stability that it enjoys.

Scout News

A Scout Leaders Training Course for both present and prospective Scoutmasters is to be held at Eagle Lake at the cottage of Hon. E. P. Scallon of Crosby. There are to be men from all over Crow Wing county here to reap the benefits that can be gotten from a discussion of each others problems. Mr. Monson, Dputy Regional Executive, will have place on the program. Those present will be very fortunate to have the opportunity to meet Mr. Monson and to hear him discuss "Troop Organization" and "Troop Meeting Programs."

The program for the week-end includes demonstrations of the following: How to organize a troop so that the boys run it and so that leaders are developed, how to plan troop meeting programs in such a way that the boy has his say as to what he would like, how to get the patrols to function as a unit, how to teach games and games to use, and how to make the hikes interesting. This will be followed with a discussion of the requirement through to First Class.

The men met this morning at 10 o'clock and will be in conference until 4:30 Sunday afternoon. Mr. Newton, Scout Executive, is directing the conference.

Cause for Rejoicing

That optimists see only the cheerful side of events because it is their nature to do so, and not because they are the beneficiaries of constant good fortune, was illustrated by a mishap that befell a man noted for his buoyant spirits. A friend, calling at his office, found him laughing heartily. At his feet lay the fragments of a mirror, which he explained, he had just broken accidentally. "But why are you so merry about it?" the friend inquired. "Why don't you see," laughed the optimist; "it limits my bad luck to seven years."

Sunlit Minds

Studies by physicians and scientists in England reported at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, held at Brighton, England, indicate that sunlight, "either natural or artificial, when properly administered, may have a definitely beneficial effect on mental activity." It was found that children handicapped in school work by illness, when cured with the aid of sunlight caught up with and even outdistanced their classmates.

NEW YORK IS NOT ALL OF AMERICA

NEW YORK is only a small part of America and does not express the sentiment of the whole United States. This very potent fact was ascertained by the members of the French debt-funding commission.

Before they went to Washington members of the American Women's club in Paris persisted in the view that America was really anxious to wipe out the whole French war debt owing the United States. Subsequent negotiations in America brought the truth to the commissioners that such a view of the financial situation was an entirely erroneous one.

Stephen Lauzanne, a well known journalist of the Matin had this to say to the American club women previously referred to, in Paris: "You ladies committed as bad a blunder here in Paris as we (the commissioners) did in talking too much in Washington. In your sympathies you had always given us a false idea of this matter. You gave us the impression that the debt would be wiped out. Perhaps your wishes are the wishes of New York, but you had forgotten to remind us that New York is only a small part of America."

FARM LANDS IN CROW WING COUNTY

THERE never was a better time than right now to buy farm land in Crow Wing county. Prices are reasonable. The county is growing, the farmers are adding many improvements, roads are being built to new sections, creameries and other industries are flourishing.

County rural schools set a high standard. Markets for products are easily reached, and in summer the constantly increasing tourist business gives the farmer a growing cash market. Improved farms can be bought and unimproved ones too. This county has more advantages than many a western area. The only difference is that the western land market is advertised to the limit.

Visit our county agent. He will give you concrete records of what can be raised in our county. He has reports of crops raised, the kind which thrive best. He has creamery and poultry statistics at his fingers' ends.

OPTIMISM IS KEYNOTE OF SUCCESS

OPTIMISM is the keynote of success in dealing with present day problems, said Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan, in an address delivered at Minneapolis.

"The world will be just as safe in the hands of the present younger generation as it was in the generation of 2,000 years ago," he said. "They will assume their responsibilities just as their forbearers did when the time arrives."

The younger generation knows more than the present generation did when it was young. And coupled with it all is the fact that our young people of today have a practical side. One thing is assured, if they attack their ultimate life work as assiduously as their present play time activities, they will be a bigger success than the old timers of today.

BE LOYAL TO YOUR TOWN

IF you live and do business in a town, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, for heaven's sake be loyal to it. If this town furnishes you with food and shelter, boost it; speak well of it; stand by it; and stand by the industries it represents.

If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a ton of clever knocking. If you must villify, and condemn and eternally disparage, pack your trunk and get out, and when you are outside knock to your heart's content. But as long as you are a part of a community, be a real man; do not condemn it. If you do, you lose the tendrils that hold you as a part of the community, and when the first high wind comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away; and probably you will never know the reason why.

MANY a country editor speeded his presses in order to enjoy his Thanksgiving Day dinner. The Walker Pilot, for instance, says: "This issue (Nov. 28) may be a trifle short of local news. We are going to press half a day earlier in order that the Pilot crew may have at least half a day to return thanks."

ARRANGEMENTS have been perfected for a meeting of members of the Sixth District American Legion to be held at Little Falls on Thursday, December 3. This is the first of a series of such meetings which will be held throughout the district.

THE beginning of winter was officially marked on THE DISPATCH calendar yesterday and action taken accordingly by removing our screen door equipment and inserting the storm door section in the requisite panel.

WE believe that a lot of these amnesia cases are simply people who wish to get a rest. Worried about something or other, they go to strange places, lose their identity in the crowd and "rest up."

WE hear of a farmer near Pine River, who suffered in the farm depression some years ago, but who this fall "cleaned up" $50,000 on potatoes and again landed on "easy street."

WE hear of engineers being able to reduce city noises. These noise engineers should also broaden their sphere to include noise reduction in flivvers, typewriters, static, etc.

WEIGHT reduction, says an expert, is chiefly a matter of self-control as regards diet. And, he might have added, self-control also in proper exercise.

THERE'S one consolation in young Senator La Follette, says the Staples World. He can't behave any worse than they expect him to.

WHAT we need is a child labor law to keep them from working their parents to death, says the Columbia Record.

Spanish Brought the Orange Into America

The orange was originally a native of India, South China or the Malay archipelago. But its Hindu or Sanskrit name was long ago influenced by the Latin word "aurum," or the French "or," meaning gold; and the whole tradition of the orange, as it has come down to us, is through the medium of Moorish splendor and Spanish luxury.

The proud Spaniard did not carry apples with him on his conquests, but he did take the orange and the lemon. The former especially came to grace the festive board of grandees; and if any time oranges were lacking at his fiestas, the fastest dispatch riders were sent to far-away missions to bring back the coveted fruit.

Although the commercial growth of oranges did not begin until the completion of the Southern Pacific to New Orleans in 1881, and received further impetus when the Santa Fe was built through in 1885, the first trees were taken to what is now our Southwest by the early mission fathers. The Franciscan monks who emigrated from Lower California in 1769 brought various semi-tropical fruits with them; and of twenty-one missions, it is said that all but three had gardens and orchards.—Albert W. Atwood, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Love at First Hand Great Thing in Life

First love comes before the age of knowledge. It is the only love entirely unencumbered with ideas and preconceptions. How little it has to do with words, with talk! It knows no terms. It is the thing itself from which terms and institutions have grown up. First lovers get love at first hand, instead of getting first the idea of romance into which to try to fit themselves and other people, Louise Townsend Nicoll writes, in the Century. They seldom talk. They get acquainted in other ways—by being near each other, by looking at each other, by softly, shyly touching hands. They do things together—play games, run races. As watchful as small animals, they learn minutely each about the other. But they do not talk.

They give each other things, always in fair exchange, and wear them out with carrying about. When they must know facts to supplement their findings, they ask—short, blunt questions. Opinion and discussion have little play.

Made Millions Laugh

The real name of the famous circus clown, Dan Rice, was Daniel McLaren and he was nicknamed as a child for an old Irish clown. He began his professional career as an acrobat and clown with Seth B. Howe, circus owner, 1845. He was a partner in Spaulding's circus until the outbreak of the Civil war. After the Civil war he was financially unfortunate, but was engaged by Adam Forepaugh at a salary of $35,000 a year, afterward increased to $1,000 a week. He retired from the stage in 1882. He was exceedingly lavish with money for charity. On one occasion he gave President Lincoln $32,000 for the benefit of wounded soldiers and their dependents. He died in February, 1900.

Mythical Greek Hero

In Greek mythology Adonis was a beautiful young boy, beloved by Venus and Proserpine. They quarreled about his possession, but the dispute was settled by Jupiter, who decreed that Adonis should annually spend eight months with Venus in the upper world and four months with Proserpine in the lower world. Adonis was fatally wounded by a wild boar, during the chase, and was changed by Venus into an anemone. She yearly mourned him on the anniversary of his death. Shakespeare has commemorated the love of Venus for Adonis in a long descriptive poem entitled "Venus and Adonis."—Kansas City Times.

Skunks Prey on Bees

The biological survey says that skunks have the reputation of eating yellow jackets and bumblebees. It is generally supposed that the juicy larvae of these is most appreciated, but the adults are also eaten and probably the honey stored by bumblebees. The skunk approaches the yellow jackets' nest cautiously and scratches on the outside of it until its occupants rush from the entrance to repel the intruder. The skunk shows much skill in capturing the insects and in dislodging them from his long hair, where many cling. He pays little attention to their stings.

Earliest Egyptians

Further discoveries of a new prehistoric people, who came long before the later prehistoric Egyptians, have been made. This people, according to Sir Flinders Petrie, the director of the British School of Archeology in Egypt, may be the earliest inhabitants of the country with a regular civilization. They may be identified with the race which occupied the deserts of Egypt and Palestine in a less arid period.

The Shawl

The shawl first was introduced into Europe at the time of Napoleon's return from Egypt, where he was fascinated by the alluring garments worn so lavishly by the orientals. It is said that he bought for the Empress Josephine over four hundred of these shawls at one time, and that one of his caprices was that he should never see the same shawl upon her shoulders twice in succession.

GIVE HIM THE GIRL, PA

Mr. Neurich was in the worst possible frame of mind to receive the would-be son-in-law and his reply was decidedly negative.

"But," said the young man, "what is your objection to me as a suitor for your daughter's hand?"

"My principal objection is that you cannot keep her in the style in which she has been brought up."

"Oh!" said the youth, "At any rate, I can start her on bread and milk, the same as you did."—Brockton Call.

Advertising for Fido

Wife—Be sure to advertise for our little dog Fido in the morning papers, Charlie, my love.

Next day Chrlie's wife read the following in the lost column of the newspaper:

"Lost—A mangy lapdog, with one eye and no tail. Too fat to walk. Answers to the name of 'Fido.' If returned stuffed, $15 reward."—Literary Digest.

AND CEASED TO FUNCTION

"What has become of that 'intelligent minority' we used to hear so much about?"

"Became a majority, of course."

His Narrow Escape

Called by Death,
Was the man of sin
But at that time
He wasn't in.

Modern Upbringing

Father—Where are you going?

Small Son—To the pictures!

Father—Where did you get the money?

Small Son—Mother gave me a quarter because I told her I saw you kiss the cook.

Father—Go and tell her you made a mistake and I'll give you 50 cents.

Of Course Not

"John," said his wife, "I saw you an hour ago and you were looking at all the young girls."

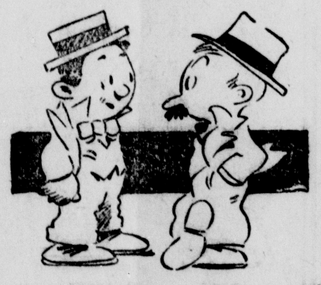

"I was looking for you, my dear. You wouldn't expect me to look for you among the old frumps."

On the Contrary

"Young man," said the nervous pedestrian, "do you toot that motor horn in order to scare people?"

"No," answered Mr. Chuggins, "I toot it to let them know how scared I am."

LEAVE IT TO THEM

"I suppose it's up to me to tell my wife everything I've done while she was away."

"Haven't you any neighbors?"

Addition to the Scenery

A girl I like
Is Alice Mary Hell,
For she's a lass
Who makes my eyes worthwhile.

He's From Charleston

Min—Joe's dancing reminds me of a Chinese opium den.

Gin—How come?

Min—It's full of hops.—Black and Blue Jay.

The Sacrificial Table

Alfred—That young bride next door worships her husband, doesn't she?

Ethel—Well, she certainly places burnt offerings before him at every meal.

Cynosure

"She is not the kind of person one well overlooks."

"No, but she is the kind one looks over well."—Wisconsin Octopus.

Safe Place to Be

"I suppose you saw a good deal of poverty in Europe?"

"Yes," a great deal. In fact, I came home for fear of going broke myself."

The Real Thing

Sandwich Man—Want some mustard on your hot dog?

Customer—No, thanks. It's bitey enough without.

Dangerous

"What is that fellow's slant?"

"Aw, he's a dangerous radical. He wants people to stop gassing and go to work."

Deputy Regional Executive Visits Brainerd

F. B. Monson, Deputy Regional Executive of the Boy Scouts of America for the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, is spending Friday and Saturday here in conference with the Scout Executive. Mr. Monson coming here from the outside is able to look over the conditions here and as an outsider to offer many constructive and helpful suggestions to help with the work here. This type of thing gives to Scouting the strength and stability that it enjoys.

Scout News

A Scout Leaders Training Course for both present and prospective Scoutmasters is to be held at Eagle Lake at the cottage of Hon. E. P. Scallon of Crosby. There are to be men from all over Crow Wing county here to reap the benefits that can be gotten from a discussion of each others problems. Mr. Monson, Dputy Regional Executive, will have place on the program. Those present will be very fortunate to have the opportunity to meet Mr. Monson and to hear him discuss "Troop Organization" and "Troop Meeting Programs."

The program for the week-end includes demonstrations of the following: How to organize a troop so that the boys run it and so that leaders are developed, how to plan troop meeting programs in such a way that the boy has his say as to what he would like, how to get the patrols to function as a unit, how to teach games and games to use, and how to make the hikes interesting. This will be followed with a discussion of the requirement through to First Class.

The men met this morning at 10 o'clock and will be in conference until 4:30 Sunday afternoon. Mr. Newton, Scout executive, is directing the conference.

Cause for Rejoicing

That optimists see only the cheerful side of events because it is their nature to do so, and not because they are the beneficiaries of constant good fortune, was illustrated by a mishap that befell a man noted for his buoyant spirits. A friend, calling at his office, found him laughing heartily. At his feet lay the fragments of a mirror, which he explained, he had just broken accidentally. "But why are you so merry about it?" the friend inquired. "Why don't you see," laughed the optimist: "it limits my bad luck to seven years."

Sunlit Minds

Studies by physicians and scientists in England reported at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, held at Brighton, England, indicate that sunlight, "either natural or artificial, when properly administered, may have a definitely beneficial effect on mental activity." It was found that children handicapped in school work by illness, when cured with the aid of sunlight caught up with and even outdistanced their classmates.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

THE MENACE OF THE MOB

Very few individuals in this generation are able to escape the influence of the mob. No nation in the world is more completely dominated by the thinking of the mob than America.

The widespread circulation of newspapers, magazines and other news mediums makes the circulation of an idea rapid and easy. We live in the midst of fads, drives, crazes and hysteria. He who can maintain a balanced mind and a careful judgment is as fortunate as he is rare.

Sane and sober men, in a crowd, will abdicate their reason and follow the mob into the most ridiculous performances.

It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that we shall find some means of escape from the crowds at times in order to give our minds an airing and our judgments a chance to stretch.

Very few masterpieces have ever been written in the midst of a crowd. The greatest pictures, the immortal songs, the inspirational poems and the enduring books have been written in the midst of solitude.

Experience is gathered in a crowd but judgments are formed in privacy and seclusion.

Just here is the value of the Sabbath. It is not for the sake of pleasing the Creator that men are enjoined to make the Sabbath a day of rest, but that the soul of humanity may have a chance to find itself.

Some religious exercises are just as dangerous to spiritual culture because of their emotional and nervous demands as the so-called secular pursuits of every day.

An hour spent in quiet meditation, under the leadership of good music and serious discussion of important themes has a positive therapeutic as well as a high religious value. Too few of us have ever learned the value of quiet.

Beware of the menace of the mob.

Evangelist F. Webster Tyler, of New York, who has been conducting a series of successful meetings the past two weeks at the Full Gospel Assembly, just across the fill, has been compelled by the demand of the crowds to continue his meetings every night for another week. Ministers from many of the churches as well as members have been receiving blessings from the gospel messages the evangelist delivered.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the subject will be "Life Through Death" and in the evening at 7:45 he will speak on the subject "That I May Know Him."

The local pastor, Rev. H. H. Ness, urges the audience to come early so as to be assured good seats.

On December 2nd, the second evening, the supper will be prepared and served by a committee with Mrs. L. J. Mraz as chairman aided by her competent assistants.

The menu as arranged for December 2nd is roast beef, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, cabbage salad, pickles, white and graham bread, jelly, sponge cake with whipped cream and coffee.

REV. JOSEPH CLARK

American Missionary in Africa to Tell of Experiences at 1st Baptist Church

Dr. Clark arrived home on furlough only a few weeks ago from Africa. It has been eight years since he was last in America on furlough.

Dr. Clark will speak both morning and evening, Sunday, Nov. 29 at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Clark has been in Africa for more than forty years, and has done a wonderful work for the natives of this heathen land. There were only two or three converts during the first five years of Dr. Clark's labors. Now there are more than one hundred thousand Christian natives.

Dr. Clark has had many thrilling experiences. At one time they were surrounded by forty-five canoe loads of savages bent on killing all the white people. Dr. and Mrs. Clark were saved only by the Providence of a divine God.

UNITED STATES IN PROPHECY

Subjects of Sermons at Scandia Hall This Week of Real Interest

The subjects at the Scandia hall this week have been of real interest, and the meetings have been well attended nearly every night. Last Sunday night every seat was taken and a large number had to stand, filling the hall to the door, while Prof. Hiatt gave his famous Indian lecture on Indian history corroborating Bible prophecy. All were very much pleased with the many illustrations, records, and incidents of Indian life, and impressed how these savages of the past recorded the fulfillment of prophecy unknowingly.

This Sunday night another lecture of special interest with lantern slide illustrations will be given. It is on a different order but of more interest to us in this country so fair and so free. "The United States in Prophecy" is the subject that ought to interest every one that is interested in the country under which they receive protection. This ought to bring a larger crowd than at any time. If so, you will want to be there early to get a seat. The song service begins at 7:45 p. m. There will be no announcements published this week so note the following subjects for the nights following:

Monday night—"Spiritualism and the Doctrine of the Devil Exposed."

Wednesday night—"How to Pay the Preacher Without Giving Your Own Money." Is it church suppers, socials, etc?

Thursday night—"Christian Baptism! Is it sprinkling? pouring or immersion?" Hear what the Bible says.

Friday night—"God's Plan for Our Physical Health." This is for the sick and all those who may possibly be some day.

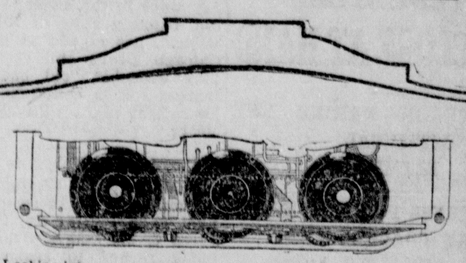

Saturday night—"Definite Characteristics of the Last Church." Compare your church with the Bible characteristics.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all these subjects. Special singing each night. This is the last week so don't miss any.

The Grebe Synchrophase offers the first Flexible Unit Control

TWO or all three dials may be set by rotating one—or each dial may be adjusted separately. Thus, in the Synchrophase you have, at your option, a receiver of one, two or three-dial control. It means ease and speed in accurate tuning, not enjoyed by owners of other receivers.

This is another one of the many forward steps in radio development made by Grebe.

The now famous Grebe Binocular Coils and S-L-F Condensers which give extreme "Selective Sensitivity", and the new Grebe Low-Wave Extension Circuits, place the Synchrophase at the forefront of radio receivers.

DIFFICULTY IN NAMING THE MYTHICAL ELEVEN

UNITED PRESS POLLS 75 PROMINENT COACHES AND OFFICIALS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)

New York, Nov. 28.—Selection of an all-American football team, with the purpose of naming the eleven best players of the 1925 season is again most difficult.

The problem is not one of finding eleven fine players but of choosing a score of great players that have to be left off the team.

From personal observation, which necessarily must be limited in a short season, from interviews and from a questionnaire that was submitted to 75 prominent coaches and officials, the United Press offers the following team:

Weir, Nebraska, left tackle.
Hess, Ohio State, left guard.
McMillan, Princeton, center.
Diehl, Dartmouth, right guard.
Parker, Dartmouth, right tackle.
Oosterbaan, Michigan, right end.
Friedman, Michigan, quarterback.
Grange, Illinois, left halfback.
Oberlander, Dartmouth, right halfback.
Slagle, Princeton, fullback.

Selecting seven outstanding linesmen was not as difficult as choosing four backs from at least 12 stars, such as Tryon, of Colgate; Fournoy of Tulane; Wilson of Washington; Nevers of Stanford; Wycoff of Georgia Tech; Baker of Northwestern; Flannigan and Enright of Notre Dame; Welch of Pittsburgh and Plansky of Georgetown.

Slagle, the Princeton star, was given the choice over Tryon, a great player, because he can do more things better than the Colgate player, who is a ball carrier.

With Tully and Oosterbaan at ends and Oberlander and Friedman in the backfield, the team has two of the greatest forward passing pairs that has been known to modern football and the champion Dartmouth team showed what a destructive weapon of offense the forward pass has become.

Choosing a second team is almost as difficult as picking a first team because there are so many fine players who must be turned down. From the votes returned from all sections of the country the following team was chosen:

Born, Swarthmore, left end.
Mahan, West Virginia, left guard.
Brown, Michigan, center.
Buckler, Alabama, right guard.
Joss, Yale, right tackle.
Thayer, Penn, right end.
Almquist, Minnesota, quarterback.
Tryon, Colgate, left halfback.
Nevers, Stanford, right halfback.
Wycoff, Georgia Tech, fullback.

Other players that were given votes for the first team by coaches and officials were:

Kent, Sewanee; McIver, North Carolina; Holland, Virginia; Thomas, Washington and Lee; Hubert, Alabama; Brown, Alabama; Reese, Vanderbilt; Lowry, Northwestern; Lamps, Chicago; McCarty, Chicago; Lewis, Northwestern; Wilcox, Purdue; Hansen, Minnesota; Gray, Penn; State; Goodwin, Georgia Tech; Born, Army; Wilson, Army; Flannigan and Enright, Notre Dame; Wilbert, Columbia; Carey, Cornell; Robinson, Pennsylvania; Powell, Davis-Elkins; Davis, West Virginia; Moore, West Virginia Wesleyan; Chase, Pittsburgh; Oliver, West Virginia; Reese, Washington and Jefferson; Carlin, Washington and Jefferson; Barnum, West Virginia; Baccus, Missouri; Sloane, Drake; Lindenmeyer, Missouri; Wilcox, Oklahoma; Richerson, Missouri; Hutchinson, Nebraska; Behm, Ames; Whiteman, Missouri; Jackson, Missouri; Rhodes, Nebraska; Connaughton, Georgetown; Stevenson, Graham; Bruce and Leary, Fordham; McPhail, Dartmouth; Goodwin, Bucknell; Crosby, Harvard; Plansky, Georgetown; Coleman, Holy Cross; Sturhahn, Yale; Coady, Harvard; Pease, Columbia; Kassel, Illinois; Lea, Princeton; Shapley, Navy; Sage, Dartmouth, and Britton, Illinois.

Halfbacks, Grange and Tryon, Illinois and Colgate.
Fullback, Oberlander, Dartmouth.

Sioux City, Ia.—Victorious over the University of South Dakota in the annual Thanksgiving day football game, 12 to 7, Morningside college athletes today turned to basketball. Coach "Obe" Wenig's squad will be supplemented by several members of the football team. He is preparing for a heavy North Central conference schedule.

Plude Defeats Cashill

Des Moines, Ia.—Harold Plude, Des Moines featherweight who had not appeared in a local ring for more than a year, returned last night and beat Jimmy Cashill of St. Paul in an eight round battle with Plude on the offensive most of the time.

ARMY AND NAVY IN CIVIL WAR TODAY

POMP AND CEREMONY MARKS THE SWANKY CADETS

DECENT WEATHER EXPECTED FOR CLASSIC CONTEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Nov. 28.—With all the pomp and ceremony that only the swanky cadets, the midshipmen and the be-ribboned old grads of the two acadamies can furnish, the Army and Navy gathered here today for their annual gridiron civil war.

For the first time in years rain or the bite of a Siberian zero did not step in to put a damper on the festivities and perfect weather prevailed. Florists found a great market and, in typical New York fashion, jumped the prices of everything from a dandelion to an orchid.

Hotels where the Army and Navy officers make their headquarters were jammed to the roofs and the coaches in charge of the squads had difficulty in convincing generals and admirals that their rank did not rate them entry to the suites where the players were trying to rest.

Officials of the New York Giants, who handled the sale of tickets locked the doors this morning and posted special cops in the hall to sound the general warning that there were no more tickets left. They estimated that 70,000 spectators would stand and sit to see the game.

The speculators as usual had plenty of tickets and they were asking $25 each for seats behind the goal posts and as high as $100 per for a box seat near midfield.

The betting was rather tricky considering the dope. The Army was generally regarded as a heavy favorite to win but even one was the best that Navy backers could get.

Those who had a memory along with their pocketbook remembered the game last year when an Army team that was a 4 to 1 favorite to win, could not cross the Navy goal line and had to win on four field goals by Garbisch.

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Nov. 28.—With 75,000 soldiers, sailors, statesman, diplomats and a few lucky civilians looking on, the Army met the Navy here this afternoon in the annual inter-service classic.

The cadet corps from West Point were the first on the field and just as they finished their drill, the Army players ran in and started to warm up.

Just after the cadets had been seated, the regiment of midshipmen from Annapolis entered, paraded around the field and took their places on the opposite side of the field.

Weather conditions were perfect but the field was a bit soft in spots.

Battle of Nations

The battle of Leipsic, October 16 to 19, 1813, in which the combined forces of Prussia, Austria and Sweden defeated the French under Napoleon, is frequently referred to as the "Battle of the Nations."

Ritola, Winner of National Cross Country Title, Congratulates Wachsmuth, Who Finished Second

Willie Ritola, the great Finnish distance runner, set a new record of 29 minutes, 27 seconds in covering the 6¼ miles of the hill and dale course for the national cross country championship. The event was run at Van Cortlandt Park, New York. He finished more than 250 yards ahead of Fred Wachsmuth, German star of the Millrose A. A. of New York. Ritola's victory brought his third championship in as many starts. He won the 10-mile and senior metropolitan crowns this fall. It was his third national championship victory.

Cheek, Harvard Captain, Throws Forward Pass For Good Gain That Helped Hold Yale to 0-0 Tie

Captain "Dolph" Cheek was one of the Crimson stars in the annual Yale-Harvard game that resulted in one of the biggest upsets of the year. The photograph shows the Harvard quarterback throwing a forward pass to Crosby for a substantial gain. Grosby was tackled by Allen who may be seen sprinting to get his man.

By HAROLD S. SWISHER

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 28.—Four football stalwarts from the University of California, two from Washington, two from Stanford, and one each from Montana, California and Oregon agricultural college comprise the Pacific Coast All-Conference team of 1925.

Selected as the players holding the highest votes of eleven leading football writers from Seattle to Los Angeles, the United Press today gives the following lineup as its annual contribution to the debate on "who's who and how much" in college football along the Pacific:

The All Conference team comprises:

Shipkey, Stanford, end.
Adams, U. S. C., end.
Erickson, Washington, tackle.
Dixon, Oregon A. C. tackle.
Carey, California, guard.
Taylor, U. S. C., guard.
Cravath, U. S. C., center.
Kelly, Montana ,quarterback.
Drury, U. S. C., halfback.
Wilson, Washington, halfback.
Nevers, Stanford, fullback.

To George Wilson of the champion Washington squad, and to Arnie Nevers, Stanford champion, goes the honor of being the only men to receive a unanimous vote.

Cast Iron and Steel

To know the proper definition of everyday substances is sometimes very useful in argument. The latest for steel and cast iron are given us by a Japanese chemist in the Imperial University of Tohoku. Steel he defines as "an iron-carbon alloy with a content of carbon lying between 0.035 and 1.7 per cent." Cast iron is similarly "an iron-carbon alloy" but with a carbon content of "between 1.7 and 6.7 per cent."

RELIGIOUS PAGEANT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Entitled "Advance the Line," Given at Morning Service of Episcopal Church

CHURCH OFTEN USES PAGEANT

Means of Interpreting And Teaching Great Truths of Christian Religion

A special service will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Seventh and Juniper streets, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Instead of the usual sermon by the rector the church school will present a religious pageant entitled, "Advance the Line."

This is not an unusual thing in the Episcopal church and it is becoming more and more popular throughout the entire United States. In the past five years more than five thousand parishes of the Episcopal church have used the pageant as a means of interpreting and teaching some of the great truths of the Christian religion and frequently as a means of reproducing outstanding historical events in the development and advancement of the church. Practically all of the largest parishes of Minneapolis and St. Paul and Duluth have produced these pageants. Some years ago the National Council of the Episcopal church with headquarters in New York recognized the development of interest in religious pageantry and appointed a Commission on Church Pagentry. This commission announced a pageant contest, asking for pageants that would be helpful and interesting for all of the parishes of the Episcopal church today, in teaching some of the historical truths. Fifty-six manuscripts of pageants were received, representing participants in seventeen states. After careful reading of all by the judges, the pageant that is to be presented at St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brainerd, Sunday morning, November 29th at the regular 11 o'clock service was chosen as the winner of th contest. This pageant alone has been produced in more than two thousand parishes of the Episcopal church throughout the entire country.

It is a well known fact to the student of church history that the giving of miracle plays, moralities and pageants in the chancel of the church is an ancient custom and that such presentation can be given with a simplicity, a dignity and a reverence that stirs the beholder and inspires them to be more loyal and faithful as Disciples of Jesus Christ.

"Advance the Line" written by Marie E. J. Hobart will be found to meet all the requirements of spiritual uplift as well as intellectual stimulas. It will be presented in St. Paul's church, Brainerd from the same manuscript that was used by Bishop Bennett in presenting it in his last parish in Minneapolis, St. Paul's by name also, while he was the rector there and just before becoming the Bishop of Duluth in November 1920. The entire service will last only the usual length of time as the pageant is designed to be given in thirty minutes.

The following is the cast of the pageant:

The Prescentor—Mrs. Levi Johnson.

The Four Guardian Angels:

Spirit of Love and Faith—Katherine Stein.

Spirit of Love and Light—Betty Robertson.

Spirit of Love and Helpfulness—Katherine Nelson.

Spirit of Love and Hope—Leona Buchite.

All Dawson had turned out for the opening, and Pierce recognized several of the El Dorado kings, among them Big Lars Anderson.

These new-born magnates were as thriftless as locusts, and in the midst of their baccanalian revels Pierce felt very poor, very obscure. Here was the roisterous spirit of the Northland at full play; it irked the young man intensely to feel that he could afford no part in it. Laure was not long in discovering him. She sped to him with the swiftness of a swallow; breathlessly she inquired:

"Where have you been so long? Why didn't you let me know you were back?"

"I just got in. I've been everywhere." He smiled down at her, and she clutched the lapel of his coat, then drew him out of the crowd. "I dropped in to see how you were getting along."

"Well, what do you think of the place?"

"Why, it looks as if you'd all get rich in a night."

"And you? Have you done anything for yourself?"

Pierce shook his head. In a few words he recounted his goings and his comings, his efforts and his failures. Laure followed the recital with swift, birdlike nods of understanding; her dark eyes were warm with sympathy.

"You're going at it the wrong way," she asserted when he had finished. "You have brains; make them work. Look at Best, look at Miller, his new partner; they know better than to mine. Mining is a fool's game. Play a sure thing, Pierce. Stay here in town and live like a human being; here's where the money will be made."

"Do you think I want to go flying over hill and dale, like a tumbleweed? I haven't had warm feet in a week and I weep salt tears when I see a bed. But I'm no Croesus; I've got to hustle. I think I've landed something finally." He told of Tom and Jerry's offer, but failed to impress his listener.

"If you go out to Hunker Creek I'll scarcely ever see you," said she. "That's the first objection. I've nearly died these last three weeks. But there are other objections. You couldn't get along with those old men. Why, they can't get along with each other! Then there's Joe McCaskey to think of. Why run into trouble?"

"I've thought of all that. But Big Lars is on the crest of his wave; he has the Midas touch, everything he lays his hands on turns to gold. He believes in Hunker—"

"I'll find out if he does," Laure said, quickly. "He's drinking. He'd tell me anything. Wait!" With a flashing smile she was off.

She returned with an air of triumph. "You'll learn to listen to me," she declared. "He says Hunker is low grade. That's why he lets lays on it instead of working it himself. Lars is a fox."

"He said that?"

"The best there is in it is wages. Those were his very words. Would you put up with Linton and Quirk and the two McCaskeys for wages? Of course not. I've something better fixed up for you." Without explaining, she led Pierce to the bar, where Morris Best was standing.

Best was genuinely glad to see his former employee; he warmly shook Pierce's hand.

"I've got 'em going, haven't I?" he chuckled.

Laure broke out, imperiously: "Loosen up, Morris, and let's all have a drink on the house. You can afford it."

"Sure!" With a happy grin the proprietor ordered a quart bottle of wine.

Pierce had not tasted liquor since his last farewell to Laure. Three weeks of hard work in the open air had effected a chemical change in his make-up, a purification of his tissues, and as a result Best's liquor mounted quickly to his head and warmed his blood. When he had emptied his glass Laure saw that it was promptly refilled.

"So you've cut out the stampeding," Morris continued. "Good! You've got sense. Let the roughnecks do it. This here Front Street is the best pay-streak in the Klondike and it won't pinch out. Why? Because every miner empties his poke into it." The speaker nodded, and leaned more intimately against Phillips. "They bring in their Bonanza dust and their El Dorado nuggets and salt our sluices. That's the system. It's simpler as falling down a log. What?"

"Come to the good news," Laure urged.

"This little woman hates you, don't she?" Best winked. "Just like she hates her right eye. You got her going, kid. Well, you can start work tomorrow."

"Start work? Where" Pierce was bewildered.

"Miller's looking for a goldweigher. We'll put you out in the saloon proper."

"'Saloon proper?'?" Pierce shook his head in good-natured refusal. "I dare say it's the fault of my bringing-up, but—I don't think there's any such thing. I'm an out-door person. I'm one of the rough-necks who salts your sluice-boxes. I think I'd better stick to the hills. It's mighty nice of you, though, and I'm much obliged."

"Are you going to take that other offer?" Laure inquired. When Pierce hesitated she laid hold of his other arm. "I won't let you go," she cried. "I want you here—"

"Nonsense!" he protested. "I can't do anything for you. I have nothing—"

"Have I ever asked you for anything?" she blazed at him. "I can take care of myself, but—I want you. I sha'n't let you go."

"Better think it over," Best declared. "We need a good man."

"Yes-" Laure clung to Pierce's hand. "Don't be in a hurry. Anyhow, stay and dance with me while we talk about it. We've never had a dance together. Please!"

The proprietor of the theater was in a genial mood. "Stick around," he seconded. "Your credit is good and it won't worry me none if you never take up your tabs. Laure has got the right idea; play 'em safe and sure, and let the other feller do the work. Now we'll have another bottle."

Federal Survey Shows Corn Crop Fairly Good in Seventh District

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Excessive rainfall during the husking period has caused a slight rise in the moisture content of corn of the seventh federal reserve district, but the general condition of the crop is considerably better than it was at this time last year, according to the federal survey of the district.

The quality of the potato crop, however, is not quite so good as at this time last year. A majority of the farmers had harvested their potato crops before the freezing weather in October so that little damage was done to the potato crop, the report shows.

The increase in winter wheat acreage does not quite equal expectations.

Butter productions in the seventh district aggregated 2.3 per cent less in October than in September but was .6 per cent more than in the corresponding month last year.

Smaller quantities of dairy products but larger tonnages of poultry were on hand at cold storage packing houses on November 1, than were on nand October 1, the reports say. Stocks of butter and poultry are lower than a year ago, but cheese and eggs are greater.

Factories in Wisconsin supplied primary markets within the state with 12.3 per cent less cheese during the four weeks ending Oct. 1, than in the four weeks preceding. The tonnage was, however, 5.9 per cent greater than for the same period last year. The sales from these markets showed an 8.4 per cent recession from September and aggregated 8.6 per cent over the total during the same period last year.

STOCKS OPEN HIGHER

New York, Nov. 28.—The short session opened with a generally firm tone and price levels were higher than the previous close. These gains were fairly well maintained through the first hour following which offerings increased materially and the general list gave ground.

Action from early highs ran from one to five points with pressure more noticeable on the motors than other groups. This development was not regarded as illogical in view of the rapid recovery in prices late Friday coming on the heels of the sharp gains all through the list on Wednesday.

Traders apparently were more desirous of buying in some of their stocks than to take on a new line over the week end. A new development of importance was the increase of $2 a ton in sulphur.

The market closed lower.

It has been said that to combine comedy and pathos in a film production and not destroy the illusions of the audience requires a truly great artist.

STOCKS OPEN HIGHER

New York, Nov. 28.—The short session opened with a generally firm tone and price levels were higher than the previous close. These gains were fairly well maintained through the first hour following which offerings increased materially and the general list gave ground.

Action from early highs ran from one to five points with pressure more noticeable on the motors than other groups. This development was not regarded as illogical in view of the rapid recovery in prices late Friday coming on the heels of the sharp gains all through the list on Wednesday.

Traders apparently were more desirous of buying in some of their stocks than to take on a new line over the week end. A new development of importance was the increase of $2 a ton in sulphur.

The market closed lower.

Charlie Chaplin Does the Unusual in New Picture "The Gold Rush"

It has been said that to combine comedy and pathos in a film production and not destroy the illusions of the audience requires a truly great artist.

In "The Gold Rush," his great comedy-drama of Alaska in ten parts, now showing at New Park theatre, Charlie Chaplin seeks the sympathies in the role of a weakling prospector, a hard luck "sourdough" in the Alaskan wilderness.

BRIAND HAS FORMED NEW FRENCH CABINET

"MAN OF THE HOUR" IN RARE STATESMANSHIP

EIGHTH TIME IN HIS CAREER HE HAS ACCOMPLISHED SUCH MISSION

LOUIS LOUCHEUR GIVEN IMPORTANT POST OF FINANCE

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Nov. 28.—Aristide Briand, the "man of the hour," has succeeded in forming a cabinet to replace the fallen Painleve regime.

At noon he reached the Elysee Palace to inform President Doumergue that his second mandate this week had been successful and that he had succeeded in constructing the cabinet. It is the eighth time in his political career that this extraordinary statesman has successfully completed a government.

The official cabinet ilst is as follows:

Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs Aristide Briand.
Minister of Interior Camille Chautemps, who was minister of justice in the last Painleve regime.
Minister of Justice Renoult.
Minister of Finance Louis Loucheur.
Minister of War Paul P. Painleve.
Minister of Marine George Leygues.
Minister of Public Instruction Edouard Deladier.
Minister of Commerce Daniel Vincent.
Minister of Public Works Anatole De Monzie.
Minister of Labor Louis Durafour.
Minister of Colonies Leon Perrier.
Minister of Agriculture Jean Durand.
Minister of Pensions Paul Jourdain.

Most of the men of the new cabinet served in the last Painleve cabinet. The new members are Rene Renoult, Loucheur, Leygues and Jourdain.

Whereas Painleve had the post of premier and Finance Minister Loucheur now takes over the highly important finance post and Briand becomes premier.

This cabinet has less left tinge than its predecessor.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Louis Loucheur, finance minister in the new French cabinet, headed and announced by Premier Aristide Briand today, has tentatively laid down the foundation of the government's financial policy and will have full details ready for announcement within a week.

Increased taxation appears likely to be the keystone of his program which will determine whether France is yet prepared to solve this most important of her troubles.

In an interview following announcement of the cabinet, Loucheur one of the wealthiest men in France, declared that "necessary new taxes are inevitable."

There is the wildest speculation, upon which he has yet thrown no light, as to his attitude on French debts. In this connection, it is recalled that at one time Loucheur advocated repudiation of these obligations.

"We have not a minute to lose," Loucheur said in discussing his program. "Germany already has reformed her currency. Belgium and also England are returning to a gold basis. It is necessary that we make a great fiscal effort but I would not consider a new interior loan for that would only increase the volume of the debt. Therefore necessary new taxes are inevitable.

"I will consider disposing of state monopolies especially tobacco, but certainly not the telephones nor telegraphs which the national interest demands remain in government hands."

10 PERSONS NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH

New York, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Ten persons narrowly escaped death here early today when the wall and floor of an old fashioned house containing an all night cabaret collapsed, hurling entertainers and guests into an excavation.

It is thought that the building was weakened by excavations for a sky scraper which immediately adjoined it. One of the entertainers was singing when suddenly the wall was seen to sway outward and the floor trembled finally giving away and plunging all into the excavation.

Johnson was charged with drunken driving. His 26 irate playfellows appeared to demand damages.

GERMANY SIGNS LOCARNO PEACE PACTS

PRESIDENT VON HINDENBURG AFFIXES HIS SIGNATURE

NOW ONLY CEREMONY AT LONDON NEEDED TO MAKE LOCARNO ERA OFFICIAL

By FREDERICK KUH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Nov. 28.—Germany's adherence to the Locarno peace pacts was made binding today by the signature of President Von Hindenburg.

The Locarno law passed by the Reichstag yesterday empowers Germany to sign the treaties at London next week. Hindenburg placed his signature on the measure at noon time today.

Thus there remains only the ceremony of London to make the Locarno era official in Germany and the allied lands.

The nationalists, defeated in their effort to kill the bill in the Reichstag are reported planning to take their fight to the supreme court, charging that the bill was unconstitutional because it was not passed under a two-thirds majority rule.

This move, however, is not expected to result in any upset for the measure, for the government previously had consulted its legal experts when the subject of the two-thirds vote was first raised.

1 DEAD, 1 NEAR DEATH IN ANOTHER MYSTERY SHOOTING

SCENE IS ROAD HOUSE NEAR WISCONSIN RAPIDS, WIS.

D. A. DAVIS DEAD, WILLIAM BAUER FATALLY WOUNDED

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Nov. 28.—(UP)—One man is dead and another is near death as the result of a mysterious shooting at a road house here last night.

R. A. Davis was killed outright when a bullet from a high powered rifle entered his brain, and William Bauer was perhaps fatally wounded when a bullet penetrated his abdomen.

Bauer was questioned by police at a hospital here but could give no motive for the attack.

The shooting was done by two men, whose faces were covered with white masks. The two men entered the road house quietly and without warning started firing. They then made a hurried exit and escaped in an automobile.

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Nov. 28.—Two men, one short and stocky and the other tall and thin were sought by central Wisconsin police today for the shooting to death here last night of R. A. Davis, 43, and the serious wounding of William Bauer, 36.

The two men, both masked, entered the road house of Frank C. Flatoff, near here, as Davis and Bauer were seated on a sofa on either side of Flatoff. Calling Davis by name with the remark, "You're the man we want," the taller man fired the shot that killed him. The shorter man then said, "Bauer, you're next" and sent a bullet through his abdomen. Davis died almost instantly with a bullet in his head and Bauer's condition is critical, although physicians announced this morning he had improved slightly and there was a chance he might recover.

Bauer told authorities he had no enemies and can give no reason for the shooting, having stopped at the road house while on his way home. Bauer lives with his mother, a widow on a farm near here and Davis lived on a farm near Nekoosa.

UNUSUAL VIEW OF MIAMI SHOWS HOW SKYSCRAPERS ARE BEING RUSHED TO COMPLETION IN SOUTHERN CITY

In the foreground of the above photograph, taken from Biscayne Bay, is seen some of the newly-made land which will be converted into a semi-tropical park. More than a score of skyscrapers are arising in this Florida city, whose building permits for October reached more than $10,000,000, a figure exceeded by only five cities in the world. Office space is at a premium and business buildings are being erected with all possible speed, so great is the demand at the present time.

QUEEN MOTHER ALEXANDRA IS LAID AT REST

LIES WITHIN HALLOWED DEATH CHAMBERS OF OLD WINDSOR

"SEA KING'S DAUGHTER" RESTS NEAR HER HUSBAND, KING EDWARD

London, Nov. 28.—Canon Herbert F. Westlake, custodian of Westminister Abbey, is dead following his participation in the services for Queen Mother Alexandra in the Abbey yesterday.

By CLIFFORD E. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Windsor, England, Nov. 28.—Queen Mother Alexandra rests within the hallowed death chambers of old Windsor.

Near where her husband, King Edward, lies and where a half dozen other kings and queens are buried, the beloved "Sea King's Daughter" was committed to the dust today.

King George, Queen Mary and other kinsfolk of the dowager queen participated in the simple private services in the seclusion of Albert Memorial chapel this forenoon. The simplicity of the final rites stood in contrast to the pomp of London, where yesterday her body had lain in state in Westminister Abbey while thousands passed in mourful silnece to look upon her face.

The dean of Windsor officiated at today's rites, the Anglican committal service, omitted yesterday from Westminister's impressive ceremonies, was said over her casket; two hymns, 'How' Blest Are They" and "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er," were sung and then the royal family took its sad farewell.

The casket had been removed from Westminister at 7 A. M. and taken by motor hearse to Windsor. At midnight they had closed the Abbey doors whlie a queue two miles long shivering in the trail of a storm, waited for a chance to pay tribute at her bier. Murmurs of disappointment arose, for the throngs had anticipated that the Abbey would be open the entire night to admit more than the 60,000 who had passed already at midnight.

Great heaps of flowers were sent to Windsor and these the public were permitted to view after the committal service. Included were offerings from far off corners of the world. The emperor and empress of Japan's wreath was there and others were from the Khan of Bhophal and Marshall Tuan of China.

But it was not only the titled who honored the beloved queen mother with their floral offerings for in the great mass of lavish flowers were some wisps sent from poorer folk. There was for instance a single rose which bore the card:

"For our devoted mother—sweet rose of Britain."

(signed) Loyal Subject."

And it epitomized the spirit of the empire at the queen mother's death.

No Innovation in Laws Is Needed by Farmers

Washington, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The farmers need no innovation in legislation but "simply the common sense application of old principles to new conditions," Sen. Gerald Nye, Nonpartisan leader of North Dakota, declared here today in his first statement since his appointment to office. Nye declared the people of his state were glad that President Coolidge has announced his intention of seeking legislation to aid cooperative marketing. He did not criticize the president.

TWO STATES IN HUNT FOR TWO WOMEN BANDITS

Renner, S. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Authorities of two states joined today in the hunt for two women bandits who held up the First National Bank here, walked out with $500 in cash and escaped in a worn-out touring car with only a ten minute start on pursuers.

The women, shabbily dressed and thought to have been about 25 and 35 years old, calmly walked into the bank yesterday at a slack business hour, held up H. S. Wilkerson, cashier, with all the assurance of seasoned criminals, ransacked the money drawer and escaped.

A fast car carrying two armed men was on the trail within 10 minutes. Authorities in neighboring towns were notified. But today no trace had been found. It is believed the women doubled on their tracks after first heading south for Sioux Falls.

GEORGE HURLEY PLEADS NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED

St. Paul, Nov. 28.—(UP)—George Hurley, indicted for murder on a charge of complicity in the slaying of Burton Stevens, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today.

Stevens was shot down in a bootleg war last winter. Ben and Abe Gleeman were convicted for the crime and sentenced to life imprisonment at Stillwater penitentiary. Last week their appeal for a new trial was denied.

Counsel for the Gleemans have maintained that Hurley knows the real slayer of Stevens. It is charged he drove the car in which the murderers escaped. If Hurley does testify that the Gleemans were not guilty of the killing, their case will be appealed to the supreme court, it was said.

Hurley's case was continued a week to allow time for his counsel to file whatever motion they wish. The trial date was set for Dec. 10.

GOV. MA FERGUSON SCORES 'HIGHBROWS' OF TEXAS STATE

Austin, Texas., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Offering a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any person worth more than $5,000 for violating the prohibition laws, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a formal statement scoring the "highbrows" of Texas.

She characterized the prohibition law as one "for the rich and against the poor."

She declared in her statement that rich people in Texas were daily violating the prohibition laws, "and boasting about it," while the penitentiary was being filled with "poor devils who carried a mere pint on their hip."

The governor made scathing remarks about judges who drank liquor themselves and sentenced home brew makers to the penitentiary. She said in effect if the rich were to be allowed to go free for liquor violations and the poor sent to the penitentiary "then justice becomes a mockery and law becomes a stench in the nostrils of all law-abiding citizens."

The governor challenged the Methodists of the state to get out and help clean up the liquor joints saying there would then not be any call to issue so many pardons. At the state convention recently there Methodists state conference passed resolutions condemning the Ferguson pardon record. The woman governor asserted her funds were limited but that she would use every cent available to continue the reward.

INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW OPENS AT CHICAGO

ARISTOCRACY OF THE LIVESTOCK WORLD IS ASSEMBLED THERE

MORE THAN 12,000 "TRUE BLUE BLOODS" STRAIN AT HALTERS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Wearing the blue ribbons that mark them as the aristocracy of the livestock world, more than 12,000 "true blue bloods" pulled at halter ropes here today, awaiting the coming of nightfall when they begin tramping sawdust rings in the 26th annual International Livestock Show. They are quartered in big buildings by the stockyards close to where many of their kind are slaughtered daily.

Experience—almost every animal is a veteran of many shows—seems to have taught them to foretell what is about to happen. They seem to know that the manicuring of hoofs, the brushing and curling of silky hair, the burnishing of hoofs, means that they are again about to enter into competition.

Among the cattle a huge white shorthorn bull stands out from the mass because of his size. His name is "King fo the Fairies." He is the property of the Prince of Wales. He is an undefeated champion, but his snortings are no more refined than those that emanate from the lowliest barnyard.

Cattle head by far the total number of entries, with swine second, sheep third and horses fourth.

Thirty different breeds of livestock as well as various cross breeds are represented among the contestants. They come from almost every state and Canadian province and most of them are descendants of stock originally imported from Scotland, England, Belgium, France, New Zealand and Australia. Seven foreign judges from three continents will assist in the judging.

In yesterday's judging contests the Minnesota junior team won third place. It was rated first in the horse judging section and scored in other departments to win its place in the final tabulations.

The team is composed of three Steele county boys, all members of livestock clubs. They are: Charles and John Chambers and Wayne Jones.

Minnesota also has a team entered in the collegiate class today.

PRELIMINARY SPARRING FOR POSITION IN S. D.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Preliminary sparring for position in the republican state proposal fight started here today with the arrival of leading candidates for office.

Senator Peter Norbeck, candidate for re-election to his seat, and George Danforth, Sioux Falls, leading opponent, are both on the ground. Danforth arrived last night with the Minnehaha delegation, the big voting bloc of the convention.

George Wright, chairman of the state control committee, has also arrived to conduct his fightf or re-election to the state post.

Delegations are expected to straggle into the battle scene all day but the great majority will not arrive until tomorrow night. The convention proper does not get under way until Tuesday.

The most heated conflict is expected to be the battle for canvention control between Governor Carl Gunderson and Senator Norbeck. Both are expected to win nominations to succeed themselves.

Under the new bill the premier becomes responsible only to the king, instead of to the king and parliament. Also he is granted special protection against slanders. High penalties are provided for anyone circulating reports displeasing to him.

STRENGTHENS THE GUARDS AT PEKING TODAY

FOREIGN LEGATIONS PUT UP BARBED WIRE BARRIERS

GREAT STUDENT DEMONSTRATIONS EXPECTED TO CAUSE TROUBLE

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, Nov. 28.—Foreign and Chinese guards in the legation quarter were strengthened today and new barbed wire barriers were placed in anticipation of great student demonstrations advocating a radical treaty abolition program. The proposed move appeared to be a recrudescence of the demonstrations of last summer when the student and striker elements sought removal of what they termed unequal foreign treaties.

It was rumored that soldiers were distributing arms and that a general strike was being fomented.

A major clash between rebels and forces of Chang Tso Lin in the north was reported imminent.

TOLEDO THINKS THAT IT HAS ITS CLUB WIELDER

MAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY WHO ANSWERS GENERAL DESCRIPTON

CARRIED BLOOD STAINED HAMMER AND SACK FILLED WITH NEWSPAPERS

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A man who gave his name as "Robert August" and answers the general description of the Toledo club wielder, who struck down nine women here, two of whom were found dead, was held by police today.

When captured in a culvert paralleling a woodland near Holland last night the man carried a blood stained hammer and an old sack filled with newspapers, according to the police. August resisted capture, brandishing his hammer and crying inarticulately when surrounded, officers declared.

The man was discovered by two hunters, who when seeing the blood stained hammer, attempted to capture him. He fled and the hunters, Stanley Novak and Charles Pizzony, fearing treachery, returned to Toledo and notified the authorities.

At the time of his enlistment, Dodash said his brother, George, lived in St. Paul and another brother, Andrew, and sister, Mary, lived in St. Cloud. That was in 1917. Stephen is now living in Cedar Grove, Louisiana.

3 EVENTS ARE VICTORIES FOR FIERY COLONEL

PACIFIC ISLANDS ADMITTED TO BE OPEN TO ATTACK

LIEUT.-COL. PAEGELOW SAYS ARMY GENERAL STAFF POOR DIRECTOR OF AIR SERVICE

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Army prosecutors in the court martial trial of Col. William Mitchell today abandoned plans to attend the Army-Navy football game in New York and gave added attention to their preparations for next week.

The court reconvenes Monday.

Three events in the prosecution's opening session yesterday were regarded today as victories for the turbulent air critic.

The stormiest moments since the trial began five weeks ago came when Representative Frank Reid, Mitchell's counsel, overheard Brig. Gen. Edwin L. King, court member, characterize Reid's cross questioning of a witness as "damm rot."

General King apologized to Reid after the court had recessed.

The only two prosecution witnesses both high ranking officers, who were umpires of the Hawaiian maneuvers last summer, admitted under cross examination by Mitchell that the Pacific Islands were open to attack.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28. — The army general staff is incompetent to supervise the air service, according to Lieut. Col. John A. Paegelow, commandant at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.

Col. Paegelow, a close personal friend of Col. William Mitchell, made this statement at a closed meeting of the Associated Engineering Societies of St. Louis.

"Mitchell and not the general staff is the logical judge of air defense conditions," he said. He referred to the recent Shenandoah disaster and contended that faulty engineering was the cause of the dirigible's collapse.

"Change the siresses and strains in the structure of a building and it will topple. The same was true of the Shenandoah. And then in its weakened condition it was sent aloft without parachutes. Commander Lansdowne knew what was wrong with the Shenandoah and protested. But like a good soldier he obeyed orders and set out on what he felt might be his last flight," Paegelow told the engineers.

He said he was not in favor of divorcing the air service from the army but it certainly was necessary that the air service should be managed by aircraft experts.

SLAYER OF TWO GETS TWO LIFE SENTENCES IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Walter Krauser, slayer of two, today was given two life sentences to run concurrently, in the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet.

Krauser entered a plea of guilty after prosecutors had agreed to a life sentence, it was said.

He was implicated in the killing of Ralph Souders nearly two years ago and he and Bernard Grant were subsequently sentenced to death for the crime.

One afternoon during jail visiting hours, Krauser suddenly leaped on Grant and stabbed him to death with a knife before he could be pulled away.

Judge John P. McGoorty passed sentence.

CONFIDENT RHINELANDER WILL WIN CASE

BELIEVE NO JURY WOULD COMPEL HIM TO LIVE WITH MULATTO

EVIDENCE IN TRIAL SO FAR, HOWEVER, SEEMS AGAINST PLAINTIFF

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 28.—(UP) — Leonard Kip Rhinelander will win his suit for annulment of his marriage to a partly colored bride, the people of White Plains believe and so confident are they that odds as high as five to one are being offered on Kip.

They argue that no jury would compel a member of the aristocratic Rhinelander family to live with the mulatto daughter of a taxi driver.

The betting favors Kip despite the fact that all concede that evidence in the trial to date has gone almost entirely against him and has favored Mrs. Rhinelander.

The case on Monday will enter the final stages.

MURDER OR ABDUCTION HINTED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 28. —(UP)—Murder or abduction was hinted today in various quarters as explanation for the sudden disappearance this week of the Rev. Knute B. Birkeland, former Lutheran pastor.

Birkeland was involved as plaintiff in an $8,000 law suit. He had filed suit against an attorney for a judgment said to have arisen from dealings in oil stock.

On Tuesday, Birkeland was in court while a jury was drawn. From the court room he went to the office of his attorney, G. S. Grimes. That was the last seen of him.

His automobile was noticed Tuesday night by police. It was tightly locked. On Thursday when the disappearance was reported, the car stood in the same place, still locked, but with the cushions differently arranged.

Today Grimes said he feared foul play. Birkeland's family also expressed misgivings for his safety. They have offered $1,000 reward for information leading to Birkeland's safe return.

EMMET HULL IN CHARGE

District Manager P. M. Sandstrom Supervised Opening of Establishment

The Consumers Wholesale Supply Company today opened their new store in the building formerly occupied by the Grey Shoppe. P. M. Sandstrom of Minneapolis, district manager, supervised the opening. Emmet Hull of Minneapolis will be in charge and with his past experience in the grocery business, he comes well prepared to give prompt and efficient service to the public. Mr. Hull is married, but does not contemplate moving his family here at present.

N. M. CONSTANS

Five years ago, beginning with one store and three employees, N. M. Constans, president of the company now has a chain of around 80 stores, the nearest one to this city being at St. Cloud. He has about 32 stores in and around Duluth and the balance are scattered throughout the southern part of the state with some in the Dakotas and Wisconsin.

The unprecedented growth is due entirely to Mr. Constans' unswerving policy of strictly high quality merchandise, lowest possible prices, fair, honest dealing and prompt, courteous and considerate treatment to the customer at all times. This combined with low operating expense, no credit losses and rapid stock turnover help to make the store a success, it is claimed.

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH MINNESOTA FIGHTS HIGH RATES

Owatonna, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP) —All cities and villages in southern Minnesota today were invited to join the seven cities comprising the southern Minnesota traffic association in its fight on increased freight rates.

At a meeting of the association here, plans were laid for presentation of evidence at the two hearings to beh eld within the next ten days. At the same time it was decided to invite co-operation of non-member cities.

The hearings for which strength of southern cities is being mustered are the Interstate Commerce commission at St. Paul Monday and the Railroad and Warehouse commission Dec. 7. Both will be told that increased freight rates in southern Minnesota will have a stunning affect upon business and argiculture.

WILD BANDS OF DRUSES IN VILLAGE RAIDS

FRENCH REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE TO DRIVE THEM BACK INTO MOUNTAINS

GIGANTIC TASK AWAITS NEW FRENCH HIGH COMMISSIONER

By JOHN O'BRIEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Beirut, Syria, Nov. 28. — Wild bands of Druses continued their sporadic raids upon villages throughout the south here today. Sufficient French reinforcements to drive the rebel Druses back into their mountain fastnesses have arrived in Syria, however, and it is expected that they will soon move to put an end to the guerilla warfare of pillage and raid.

Upon his arrival here, the new French high commissioner, M. De Jouvenal, will find a gigantic task awaiting him. In a military sense the difficulty in Syria closely resembles that in Morocco and both have caused France no little worry.

The future of the country depends upon the nature of the "organic statute" which is to be presented to the League of Nations. The Syrians continue to demand the right of self government, with the high commissioner limited to an advisory capacity, while the French believe that the Syrians are not yet ready to govern their own affairs.

The Druse warriors, like the Riffians, show almost fanatical ferocity, believing as they do that the soul of every warrior killed in the battle with the Christians is immediately re-born in the body of a lion. Approximately six thousand of these fighters are still in the field.

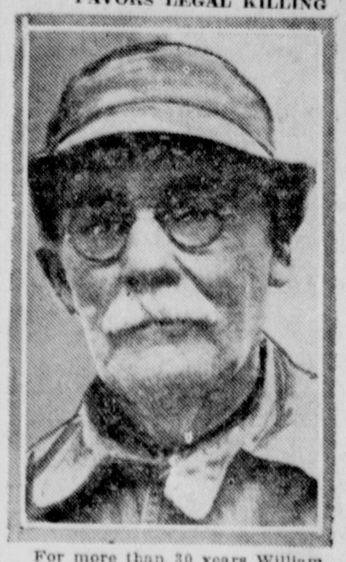

WM. BRANDT QUESTIONED ON SLAYING OF BOY

Stillwater, Minn., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Adolph Kramer, Milwaukee detective, and a group of St. Paul officers arrived here today to question William Brandt, confessed boy slayer serving life sentence at the state penitentiary.

Brandt was sentenced to a life term for the murder of Francis Pioletti, 11-year-old boy. This week he told prison officials he also murdered Arthur Schumacher, 9-year-old Wauwatisa, Wis., lad.

Wisconsin authorities have doubted the Schumacher confession because some of the facts in the case were distorted. St. Paul police, however, believed the statement substantially true. They said Brandt would be confronted with a third boy murder also.

FARMER-POET, IN SAME POSITION AS DR. BLAZER FAVORS LEGAL KILLING

For more than 30 years William Whitby, farmer-poet of Wichita, Kans., has been attending to the comfort of his boy, Rolla, who at the age of three fell from a barn lot and became a helpless cripple. He is not able to move or speak. Mrs. Whitby died some years ago and since then Whitby has cared for the boy. Whitby sympathized with Dr. Blazer, while the physician was on trial for poisoning his imbecile daughter, and expressed the opinion that were he faced by the same crisis that confronted Dr. Blazer he would have taken the same action. The farmer-poet favors a legal method by which imbeciles could be eliminated through a painless scientific method.

HUSBAND OF TEXAS GOVERNOR DENIES INFLUENCING WIFE

Austin, Texas, Nov. 29.—(UP)—in vitriolic language former Gov. James E. Ferguson today denied reports carried in certain newspapers that he had said he was governor and not Mrs. Ferguson. The former governor said that any report that he was influencing his wife or usunping her power were absolutely groundless.

NEW YORK IS NOT ALL OF AMERICA

NEW YORK is only a small part of America and does not express the sentiment of the whole United States. This very potent fact was ascertained by the members of the French debt-funding commission.

Before they went to Washington members of the American Women's club in Paris persisted in the view that America was really anxious to wipe out the whole French war debt owing the United States. Subsequent negotiations in America brought the truth to the commissioners that such a view of the financial situation was an entirely erroneous one.

Stephen Lauzanne, a well known journalist of the Matin had this to say to the American club women previously referred to, in Paris: "You ladies committed as bad a blunder here in Paris as we (the commissioners) did in talking too much in Washington. In your sympathies you had always given us a false idea of this matter. You gave us the impression that the debt would be wiped out. Perhaps your wishes are the wishes of New York, but you had forgotten to remind us that New York is only a small part of America."

FARM LANDS IN CROW WING COUNTY

THERE never was a better time than right now to buy farm land in Crow Wing county. Prices are reasonable. The county is growing, the farmers are adding many improvements, roads are being built to new sections, creameries and other industries are flourishing.

County rural schools set a high standard. Markets for products are easily reached, and in summer the constantly increasing tourist business gives the farmer a growing cash market. Improved farms can be bought and unimproved ones too. This county has more advantages than many a western area. The only difference is that the western land market is advertised to the limit.

Visit our county agent. He will give you concrete records of what can be raised in our county. He has reports of crops raised, the kind which thrive best. He has creamery and poultry statistics at his fingers' ends.

OPTIMISM IS KEYNOTE OF SUCCESS

OPTIMISM is the keynote of success in dealing with present day problems, said Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan, in an address delivered at Minneapolis.

"The world will be just as safe in the hands of the present younger generation as it was in the generation of 2,000 years ago," he said. "They will assume their responsibilities just as their forbearers did when the time arrives."

The younger generation knows more than the present generation did when it was young. And coupled with it all is the fact that our young people of today have a practical side. One thing is assured, if they attack their ultimate life work as assiduously as their present play time activities, they will be a bigger success than the old timers of today.

BE LOYAL TO YOUR TOWN

IF you live and do business in a town, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, for heaven's sake be loyal to it. If this town furnishes you with food and shelter, boost it; speak well of it; stand by it; and stand by the industries it represents.

If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a ton of clever knocking. If you must villify, and condemn and eternally disparage, pack your trunk and get out, and when you are outside knock to your heart's content. But as long as you are a part of a community, be a real man; do not condemn it. If you do, you lose the tendrils that hold you as a part of the community, and when the first high wind comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away; and probably you will never know the reason why.

MANY a country editor speeded his presses in order to enjoy his Thanksgiving Day dinner. The Walker Pilot, for instance, says: "This issue (Nov. 28) may be a trifle short of local news. We are going to press half a day earlier in order that the Pilot crew may have at least half a day to return thanks."

ARRANGEMENTS have been perfected for a meeting of members of the Sixth District American Legion to be held at Little Falls on Thursday, December 3. This is the first of a series of such meetings which will be held throughout the district.

THE beginning of winter was officially marked on THE DISPATCH calendar yesterday and action taken accordingly by removing our screen door equipment and inserting the storm door section in the requisite panel.

WE believe that a lot of these amnesia cases are simply people who wish to get a rest. Worried about something or other, they go to strange places, lose their identity in the crowd and "rest up."

WE hear of a farmer near Pine River, who suffered in the farm depression some years ago, but who this fall "cleaned up" $50,000 on potatoes and again landed on "easy street."

WE hear of engineers being able to reduce city noises. These noise engineers should also broaden their sphere to include noise reduction in flivvers, typewriters, static, etc.

WEIGHT reduction, says an expert, is chiefly a matter of self-control as regards diet. And, he might have added, self-control also in proper exercise.

THERE'S one consolation in young Senator La Follette, says the Staples World. He can't behave any worse than they expect him to.

WHAT we need is a child labor law to keep them from working their parents to death, says the Columbia Record.

Spanish Brought the Orange Into America

The orange was originally a native of India, South China or the Malay archipelago. But its Hindu or Sanskrit name was long ago influenced by the Latin word "aurum," or the French "or," meaning gold; and the whole tradition of the orange, as it has come down to us, is through the medium of Moorish splendor and Spanish luxury.

The proud Spaniard did not carry apples with him on his conquests, but he did take the orange and the lemon. The former especially came to grace the festive board of grandees; and if any time oranges were lacking at his fiestas, the fastest dispatch riders were sent to far-away missions to bring back the coveted fruit.

Although the commercial growth of oranges did not begin until the completion of the Southern Pacific to New Orleans in 1881, and received further impetus when the Santa Fe was built through in 1885, the first trees were taken to what is now our Southwest by the early mission fathers. The Franciscan monks who emigrated from Lower California in 1769 brought various semi-tropical fruits with them; and of twenty-one missions, it is said that all but three had gardens and orchards.—Albert W. Atwood, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Love at First Hand Great Thing in Life

First love comes before the age of knowledge. It is the only love entirely unencumbered with ideas and preconceptions. How little it has to do with words, with talk! It knows no terms. It is the thing itself from which terms and institutions have grown up. First lovers get love at first hand, instead of getting first the idea of romance into which to try to fit themselves and other people, Louise Townsend Nicoll writes, in the Century. They seldom talk. They get acquainted in other ways—by being near each other, by looking at each other, by softly, shyly touching hands. They do things together—play games, run races. As watchful as small animals, they learn minutely each about the other. But they do not talk.

They give each other things, always in fair exchange, and wear them out with carrying about. When they must know facts to supplement their findings, they ask—short, blunt questions. Opinion and discussion have little play.

Made Millions Laugh

The real name of the famous circus clown, Dan Rice, was Daniel McLaren and he was nicknamed as a child for an old Irish clown. He began his professional career as an acrobat and clown with Seth B. Howe, circus owner, 1845. He was a partner in Spaulding's circus until the outbreak of the Civil war. After the Civil war he was financially unfortunate, but was engaged by Adam Forepaugh at a salary of $35,000 a year, afterward increased to $1,000 a week. He retired from the stage in 1882. He was exceedingly lavish with money for charity. On one occasion he gave President Lincoln $32,000 for the benefit of wounded soldiers and their dependents. He died in February, 1900.

Mythical Greek Hero

In Greek mythology Adonis was a beautiful young boy, beloved by Venus and Proserpine. They quarreled about his possession, but the dispute was settled by Jupiter, who decreed that Adonis should annually spend eight months with Venus in the upper world and four months with Proserpine in the lower world. Adonis was fatally wounded by a wild boar, during the chase, and was changed by Venus into an anemone. She yearly mourned him on the anniversary of his death. Shakespeare has commemorated the love of Venus for Adonis in a long descriptive poem entitled "Venus and Adonis."—Kansas City Times.

Skunks Prey on Bees

The biological survey says that skunks have the reputation of eating yellow jackets and bumblebees. It is generally supposed that the juicy larvae of these is most appreciated, but the adults are also eaten and probably the honey stored by bumblebees. The skunk approaches the yellow jackets' nest cautiously and scratches on the outside of it until its occupants rush from the entrance to repel the intruder. The skunk shows much skill in capturing the insects and in dislodging them from his long hair, where many cling. He pays little attention to their stings.

Earliest Egyptians

Further discoveries of a new prehistoric people, who came long before the later prehistoric Egyptians, have been made. This people, according to Sir Flinders Petrie, the director of the British School of Archeology in Egypt, may be the earliest inhabitants of the country with a regular civilization. They may be identified with the race which occupied the deserts of Egypt and Palestine in a less arid period.

The Shawl

The shawl first was introduced into Europe at the time of Napoleon's return from Egypt, where he was fascinated by the alluring garments worn so lavishly by the orientals. It is said that he bought for the Empress Josephine over four hundred of these shawls at one time, and that one of his caprices was that he should never see the same shawl upon her shoulders twice in succession.

GIVE HIM THE GIRL, PA

Mr. Neurich was in the worst possible frame of mind to receive the would-be son-in-law and his reply was decidedly negative.

"But," said the young man, "what is your objection to me as a suitor for your daughter's hand?"

"My principal objection is that you cannot keep her in the style in which she has been brought up."

"Oh!" said the youth, "At any rate, I can start her on bread and milk, the same as you did."—Brockton Call.

Advertising for Fido

Wife—Be sure to advertise for our little dog Fido in the morning papers, Charlie, my love.

Next day Chrlie's wife read the following in the lost column of the newspaper:

"Lost—A mangy lapdog, with one eye and no tail. Too fat to walk. Answers to the name of 'Fido.' If returned stuffed, $15 reward."—Literary Digest.

AND CEASED TO FUNCTION

"What has become of that 'intelligent minority' we used to hear so much about?"

"Became a majority, of course."

His Narrow Escape

Called by Death,
Was the man of sin
But at that time
He wasn't in.

Modern Upbringing

Father—Where are you going?

Small Son—To the pictures!

Father—Where did you get the money?

Small Son—Mother gave me a quarter because I told her I saw you kiss the cook.

Father—Go and tell her you made a mistake and I'll give you 50 cents.

Of Course Not

"John," said his wife, "I saw you an hour ago and you were looking at all the young girls."

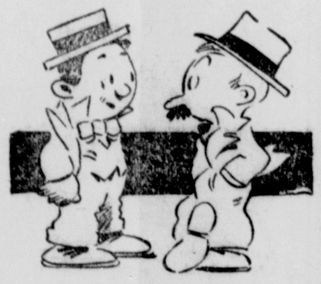

"I was looking for you, my dear. You wouldn't expect me to look for you among the old frumps."

On the Contrary

"Young man," said the nervous pedestrian, "do you toot that motor horn in order to scare people?"

"No," answered Mr. Chuggins, "I toot it to let them know how scared I am."

LEAVE IT TO THEM

"I suppose it's up to me to tell my wife everything I've done while she was away."

"Haven't you any neighbors?"

Addition to the Scenery

A girl I like
Is Alice Mary Hell,
For she's a lass
Who makes my eyes worthwhile.

He's From Charleston

Min—Joe's dancing reminds me of a Chinese opium den.

Gin—How come?

Min—It's full of hops.—Black and Blue Jay.

The Sacrificial Table

Alfred—That young bride next door worships her husband, doesn't she?

Ethel—Well, she certainly places burnt offerings before him at every meal.

Cynosure

"She is not the kind of person one well overlooks."

"No, but she is the kind one looks over well."—Wisconsin Octopus.

Safe Place to Be

"I suppose you saw a good deal of poverty in Europe?"

"Yes," a great deal. In fact, I came home for fear of going broke myself."

The Real Thing

Sandwich Man—Want some mustard on your hot dog?

Customer—No, thanks. It's bitey enough without.

Dangerous

"What is that fellow's slant?"

"Aw, he's a dangerous radical. He wants people to stop gassing and go to work."

Deputy Regional Executive Visits Brainerd

F. B. Monson, Deputy Regional Executive of the Boy Scouts of America for the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, is spending Friday and Saturday here in conference with the Scout Executive. Mr. Monson coming here from the outside is able to look over the conditions here and as an outsider to offer many constructive and helpful suggestions to help with the work here. This type of thing gives to Scouting the strength and stability that it enjoys.

Scout News

A Scout Leaders Training Course for both present and prospective Scoutmasters is to be held at Eagle Lake at the cottage of Hon. E. P. Scallon of Crosby. There are to be men from all over Crow Wing county there to reap the benefits that can be gotten from a discussion of each others problems. Mr. Monson, Dputy Regional Executive, will have place on the program. Those present will be very fortunate to have the opportunity to meet Mr. Monson and to hear him discuss "Troop Organization" and "Troop Meeting Programs."

The program for the week-end includes demonstrations of the following: How to organize a troop so that the boys run it and so that leaders are developed, how to plan troop meeting programs in such a way that the boy has his say as to what he would like, how to get the patrols to function as a unit, how to teach games and games to use, and how to make the hikes interesting. This will be followed with a discussion of the requirement through to First Class.

The men met this morning at 10 o'clock and will be in conference until 4:30 Sunday afternoon. Mr. Newton, Scout executive, is directing the conference.

Cause for Rejoicing

That optimists see only the cheerful side of events because it is their nature to do so, and not because they are the beneficiaries of constant good fortune, was illustrated by a mishap that befell a man noted for his buoyant spirits. A friend, calling at his office, found him laughing heartily. At his feet lay the fragments of a mirror, which he explained, he had just broken accidentally. "But why are you so merry about it?" the friend inquired. "Why don't you see," laughed the optimist: "it limits my bad luck to seven years."

Sunlit Minds

Studies by physicians and scientists in England reported at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, held at Brighton, England, indicate that sunlight, "either natural or artificial, when properly administered, may have a definitely beneficial effect on mental activity." It was found that children handicapped in school work by illness, when cured with the aid of sunlight caught up with and even outdistanced their classmates.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

THE MENACE OF THE MOB

Very few individuals in this generation are able to escape the influence of the mob. No nation in the world is more completely dominated by the thinking of the mob than America.

The widespread circulation of newspapers, magazines and other news mediums makes the circulation of an idea rapid and easy. We live in the midst of fads, drives, crazes and hysteria. He who can maintain a balanced mind and a careful judgment is as fortunate as he is rare.

Sane and sober men, in a crowd, will abdicate their reason and follow the mob into the most ridiculous performances.

It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that we shall find some means of escape from the crowds at times in order to give our minds an airing and our judgments a chance to stretch.

Very few masterpieces have ever been written in the midst of a crowd. The greatest pictures, the immortal songs, the inspirational poems and the enduring books have been written in the midst of solitude.

Experience is gathered in a crowd but judgments are formed in privacy and seclusion.

Just here is the value of the Sabbath. It is not for the sake of pleasing the Creator that men are enjoined to make the Sabbath a day of rest, but that the soul of humanity may have a chance to find itself.

Some religious exercises are just as dangerous to spiritual culture because of their emotional and nervous demands as the so-called secular pursuits of every day.

An hour spent in quiet meditation, under the leadership of good music and serious discussion of important themes has a positive therapeutic as well as a high religious value. Too few of us have ever learned the value of quiet.

Beware of the menace of the mob.

Evangelist F. Webster Tyler, of New York, who has been conducting a series of successful meetings the past two weeks at the Full Gospel Assembly, just across the fill, has been compelled by the demand of the crowds to continue his meetings every night for another week. Ministers from many of the churches as well as members have been receiving blessings from the gospel messages the evangelist delivered.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the subject will be "Life Through Death" and in the evening at 7:45 he will speak on the subject "That I May Know Him."

The local pastor, Rev. H. H. Ness, urges the audience to come early so as to be assured good seats.

REV. JOSEPH CLARK

American Missionary in Africa to Tell of Experiences at 1st Baptist Church

Dr. Clark arrived home on furlough only a few weeks ago from Africa. It has been eight years since he was last in America on furlough.

Dr. Clark will speak both morning and evening, Sunday, Nov. 29 at the First Baptist church.

Dr. Clark has been in Africa for more than forty years, and has done a wonderful work for the natives of this heathen land. There were only two or three converts during the first five years of Dr. Clark's labors. Now there are more than one hundred thousand Christian natives.

Dr. Clark has had many thrilling experiences. At one time they were surrounded by forty-five canoe loads of savages bent on killing all the white people. Dr. and Mrs. Clark were saved only by the Providence of a divine God.

UNITED STATES IN PROPHECY

Subjects of Sermons at Scandia Hall This Week of Real Interest

The subjects at the Scandia hall this week have been of real interest, and the meetings have been well attended nearly every night. Last Sunday night every seat was taken and a large number had to stand, filling the hall to the door, while Prof. Hiatt gave his famous Indian lecture on Indian history corroborating Bible prophecy. All were very much pleased with the many illustrations, records, and incidents of Indian life, and impressed how these savages of the past recorded the fulfillment of prophecy unknowingly.

This Sunday night another lecture of special interest with lantern slide illustrations will be given. It is on a different order but of more interest to us in this country so fair and so free. "The United States in Prophecy" is the subject that ought to interest every one that is interested in the country under which they receive protection. This ought to bring a larger crowd than at any time. If so, you will want to be there early to get a seat. The song service begins at 7:45 p. m. There will be no announcements published this week so note the following subjects for the nights following:

Monday night—"Spiritualism and the Doctrine of the Devil Exposed."

Wednesday night—"How to Pay the Preacher Without Giving Your Own Money." Is it church suppers, socials, etc?

Thursday night—"Christian Baptism! Is it sprinkling? pouring or immersion?" Hear what the Bible says.

Friday night—"God's Plan for Our Physical Health." This is for the sick and all those who may possibly be some day.

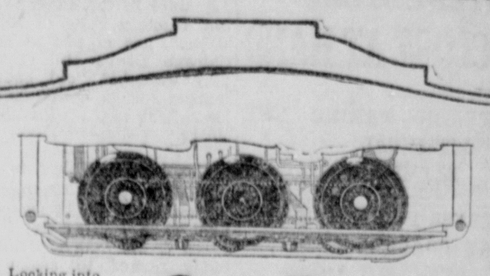

Saturday night—"Definite Characteristics of the Last Church." Compare your church with the Bible characteristics.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all these subjects. Special singing each night. This is the last week so don't miss any.

TWO or all three dials may be set by rotating one—or each dial may be adjusted separately. Thus, in the Synchrophase you have, at your option, a receiver of one, two or three-dial control. It means ease and speed in accurate tuning, not enjoyed by owners of other receivers.

This is another one of the many forward steps in radio development made by Grebe.

ALL-AMERICAN FOOTBALL TEAM IS NAMED

WEALTH OF MATERIAL LIES CLOSE AT HAND

DIFFICULTY IN NAMING THE MYTHICAL ELEVEN

UNITED PRESS POLLS 75 PROMINENT COACHES AND OFFICIALS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)

New York, Nov. 28.—Selection of an all-American football team, with the purpose of naming the eleven best players of the 1925 season is again most difficult.

The problem is not one of finding eleven fine players but of choosing a score of great players that have to be left off the team.

From personal observation, which necessarily must be limited in a short season, from interviews and from a questionnaire that was submitted to 75 prominent coaches and officials, the United Press offers the following team:

Weir, Nebraska, left tackle.
Hess, Ohio State, left guard.
McMillan, Princeton, center.
Diehl, Dartmouth, right guard.
Parker, Dartmouth, right tackle.
Oosterbaan, Michigan, right end.
Friedman, Michigan, quarterback.
Grange, Illinois, left halfback.
Oberlander, Dartmouth, right halfback.
Slagle, Princeton, fullback.

Selecting seven outstanding linesmen was not as difficult as choosing four backs from at least 12 stars, such as Tryon, of Colgate; Fournoy of Tulane; Wilson of Washington; Nevers of Stanford; Wycoff of Georgia Tech; Baker of Northwestern; Flannigan and Enright of Notre Dame; Welch of Pittsburgh and Plansky of Georgetown.

Slagle, the Princeton star, was given the choice over Tryon, a great player, because he can do more things better than the Colgate player, who is a ball carrier.

With Tully and Oosterbaan at ends and Oberlander and Friedman in the backfield, the team has two of the greatest forward passing pairs that has been known to modern football and the champion Dartmouth team showed what a destructive weapon of offense the forward pass has become.

Choosing a second team is almost as difficult as picking a first team because there are so many fine players who must be turned down. From the votes returned from all sections of the country the following team was chosen:

Born, Swarthmore, left end.
Mahan, West Virginia, left guard.
Brown, Michigan, center.
Buckler, Alabama, right guard.
Joss, Yale, right tackle.
Thayer, Penn, right end.
Almquist, Minnesota, quarterback.
Tryon, Colgate, left halfback.
Nevers, Stanford, right halfback.
Wycoff, Georgia Tech, fullback.

Other players that were given votes for the first team by coaches and officials were:

Kent, Sewanee; McIver, North Carolina; Holland, Virginia; Thomas, Washington and Lee; Hubert, Alabama; Brown, Alabama; Reese, Vanderbilt; Lowry, Northwestern; Lamps, Chicago; McCarty, Chicago; Lewis, Northwestern; Wilcox, Purdue; Hansen, Minnesota; Gray, Penn; State; Goodwin, Georgia Tech; Born, Army; Wilson, Army; Flannigan and Enright, Notre Dame; Wilbert, Columbia; Carey, Cornell; Robinson, Pennsylvania; Powell, Davis-Elkins; Davis, West Virginia; Moore, West Virginia Wesleyan; Chase, Pittsburgh; Oliver, West Virginia; Reese, Washington and Jefferson; Carlin, Washington and Jefferson; Barnum, West Virginia; Baccus, Missouri; Sloane, Drake; Lindenmeyer, Missouri; Wilcox, Oklahoma; Richerson, Missouri; Hutchinson, Nebraska; Behm, Ames; Whiteman, Missouri; Jackson, Missouri; Rhodes, Nebraska; Connaughton, Georgetown; Stevenson, Graham; Bruce and Leary, Fordham; McPhail, Dartmouth; Goodwin, Bucknell; Crosby, Harvard; Plansky, Georgetown; Coleman, Holy Cross; Sturhahn, Yale; Coady, Harvard; Pease, Columbia; Kassel, Illinois; Lea, Princeton; Shapley, Navy; Sage, Dartmouth, and Britton, Illinois.

Evening World of New York Makes Its Selections Known

New York, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The Evening World canvassed coaches in all parts of the United States for the mythical all-American grid team and the following is announced today:

Guards, Stuhrhahn, Yale; Diehl, Dartmouth.
Center, Brown, Michigan.
Quarterback, Friedman, Michigan.
Halfbacks, Grange and Tryon, Illinois and Colgate.
Fullback, Oberlander, Dartmouth.

Chicago—Joe Stecher, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, and Frank Judson, former mat instructor at Harvard, will meet in a finish match here December 7.

Plude Defeats Cashill

Des Moines, Ia.—Harold Plude, Des Moines featherweight who had not appeared in a local ring for more than a year, returned last night and beat Jimmy Cashill of St. Paul in an eight round battle with Plude on the offensive most of the time.

ARMY AND NAVY IN CIVIL WAR TODAY

POMP AND CEREMONY MARKS THE SWANKY CADETS

DECENT WEATHER EXPECTED FOR CLASSIC CONTEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Nov. 28.—With all the pomp and ceremony that only the swanky cadets, the midshipmen and the be-ribboned old grads of the two acadamies can furnish, the Army and Navy gathered here today for their annual gridiron civil war.

For the first time in years rain or the bite of a Siberian zero did not step in to put a damper on the festivities and perfect weather prevailed. Florists found a great market and, in typical New York fashion, jumped the prices of everything from a dandelion to an orchid.

Hotels where the Army and Navy officers make their headquarters were jammed to the roofs and the coaches in charge of the squads had difficulty in convincing generals and admirals that their rank did not rate them entry to the suites where the players were trying to rest.

Officials of the New York Giants, who handled the sale of tickets locked the doors this morning and posted special cops in the hall to sound the general warning that there were no more tickets left. They estimated that 70,000 spectators would stand and sit to see the game.

The speculators as usual had plenty of tickets and they were asking $25 each for seats behind the goal posts and as high as $100 per for a box seat near midfield.

The betting was rather tricky considering the dope. The Army was generally regarded as a heavy favorite to win but even one was the best that Navy backers could get.

Those who had a memory along with their pocketbook remembered the game last year when an Army team that was a 4 to 1 favorite to win, could not cross the Navy goal line and had to win on four field goals by Garbisch.

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Nov. 28.—With 75,000 soldiers, sailors, statesman, diplomats and a few lucky civilians looking on, the Army met the Navy here this afternoon in the annual inter-service classic.

The cadet corps from West Point were the first on the field and just as they finished their drill, the Army players ran in and started to warm up.

Just after the cadets had been seated, the regiment of midshipmen from Annapolis entered, paraded around the field and took their places on the opposite side of the field.

Weather conditions were perfect but the field was a bit soft in spots.

Willie Ritola, the great Finnish distance runner, set a new record of 29 minutes, 27 seconds in covering the 6¼ miles of the hill and dale course for the national cross country championship. The event was run at Van Cortlandt Park, New York. He finished more than 250 yards ahead of Fred Wachsmuth, German star of the Millrose A. A. of New York. Ritola's victory brought his third championship in as many starts. He won the 10-mile and senior metropolitan crowns this fall. It was his third national championship victory.

Captain "Dolph" Cheek was one of the Crimson stars in the annual Yale-Harvard game that resulted in one of the biggest upsets of the year. The photograph shows the Harvard quarterback throwing a forward pass to Crosby for a substantial gain. Grosby was tackled by Allen who may be seen springing to get his man.

PACIFIC COAST HAS AN ALL CONFERENCE TEAM

11 LEADING FOOTBALL WRITERS COMPILED THEIR MYTHICAL TEAM

By HAROLD S. SWISHER
United Press Staff Correspondent

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 28.—Four football stalwarts from the University of California, two from Washington, two from Stanford, and one each from Montana, California and Oregon agricultural college comprise the Pacific Coast All-Conference team of 1925.

Selected as the players holding the highest votes of eleven leading football writers from Seattle to Los Angeles, the United Press today gives the following lineup as its annual contribution to the debate on "who's who and how much" in college football along the Pacific:

The All Conference team comprises:

Shipkey, Stanford, end.
Adams, U. S. C., end.
Erickson, Washington, tackle.
Dixon, Oregon A. C. tackle.
Carey, California, guard.
Taylor, U. S. C., guard.
Cravath, U. S. C., center.
Kelly, Montana ,quarterback.
Drury, U. S. C., halfback.

Cast Iron and Steel

To know the proper definition of everyday substances is sometimes very useful in argument. The latest for steel and cast iron are given us by a Japanese chemist in the Imperial University of Tohoku. Steel he defines as "an iron-carbon alloy with a content of carbon lying between 0.035 and 1.7 per cent." Cast iron is similarly "an iron-carbon alloy" but with a carbon content of "between 1.7 and 6.7 per cent."

TRUNK HIGHWAYS ARE FROZEN HARD

Minnesota trunk highways generally are frozen smooth and hard today, says a bulletin from the state highway department.

Trunk route conditions generally are favorable to the plan of the department for serving main highway users throughout the winter where the traffic is heavy enough to justify the expense and providing that snow falls are only normal.

The bulletin today covering the 7,000 miles of Babcock roads marked with official numbers on yellow stars is as follows, insofar as it refers to the Brainerd Lake Region:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—264 miles—Duluth, good—Motley, fair—Wadena, good—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca, Garrison and Brainerd—102 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—97 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—66 miles—St. Cloud, paved—Belle Prairie—fair 25 mile detour—Brainerd.

NEW SHIPPING MANAGER ELECTED

Board of Directors Elect James Cofield to Succeed Late Arthur M. Hagberg

LARGE SHIPMENT STOCK MADE

Mr. Cofield, of R. F. D. Deerwood, is Former Vice President And Versed in Business

The board of directors of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping association held a meeting Friday afternoon in the farmer's room at the court house for the purpose of electing a shipping manager to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of Arthur M. Hagberg, Sr. Wednesday morning. Mr. Hagberg had been manager of the association for the past several years.

This early action was made necessary by the fact that on Monday Mr. Hagberg had made a large shipment of stock and farmers were waiting for their returns. James Cofield, R. F. D. Deerwood, former vice-president of the association was elected to succeed Mr. Hagberg. Anyone wishing to ship stock will list their stock with F. M. Hagberg as usual.

The association passed a resolution expressing their sympathy to the family of Mr. Hagberg and expressing also their high regard for him as a friend and manager of the shipping association.

Attorney D. H. Fullerton is representing the plaintiff and Attorneys Ryan, Ryan & Ryan appear for the defense.

N. E. IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE

Committee Appointed to Protest Against Telephone Rate Increase

Richard Ilse was appointed chairman of a committee from the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League to protest against the proposed increase in telphone rates. After some discussion the League went on record as opposed to any raise in telephone rates.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert reporting the Lowell school collection and supplies for Thanksgiving baskets said it was gratifying to see the willingness of the people to give that others less fortunate might share in a good Thanksgiving dinner. The offering was large and varied.

After the treasurer's report was read the League voted to give $5.00 to the Library board for the purchase of children's books for that section of the library.

Several reels of pictures showing the manufacturing of iron and steel, coal mining, views of mining villages and commercial use of Fordson tractors were shown by the Woodhead Motor Co. and proved very educational. Richie Warrick and Mr. Rush were in charge of the films. The Boy Scouts who were in session in the basement of the school were invited to view the pictures.

Owing to other attractions in Northeast and the small attendance it was decided to hold the election of officers at the January meeting. There will be no meeting in December.

Efforts will be made to apprehend the party or parties who are again damaging the railing on the fill. A report was made regarding highway No. 2. Several members agreed to supply one number each for the program to be given at the January meeting.

FIVE VAUDEVILLE ACTS

New Park Theatre of Brainerd Puts on a Splendid Program Tuesday

Next Tuesday evening, the New Park theatre will put on another one of their big vaudeville bills in connection with a big feature picture.

There are two shows—one at 7 and one at 9:15 and everybody who saw last week's bill will be more than anxious to attend this one.

There are five big acts. The first one of Frear and Dewey, contortionists, in an eight minute, snappy little opening act. There will be special scenery.

Sam Lee, all by himself will entertain you for ten minutes in his act entitled "China's Greatest Musician" featuring several novelty instruments.

Rogers and King Trio consists of two men and one woman. The girl plays the piano very good and the boys are exceptionally good in their singing.

Denure, Null & Void, two men and one woman will give a little act entitled, "A Pot Pourri of Comedy." You will get a good laugh out of this.

"Surprise Supreme" given by Oscar Martin and Company will finish up the bill. They will have a full stage special scenery and some marvelous feats. The manager with the troupe is exceptionally clever and the man and woman do some very difficult feats.

Duluth sent word that these acts made a big hit when in their city.

Business Meeting

RELIGIOUS PAGEANT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Entitled "Advance the Line," Given at Morning Service of Episcopal Church

CHURCH OFTEN USES PAGEANT

Means of Interpreting And Teaching Great Truths of Christian Religion

A special service will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Seventh and Juniper streets, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Instead of the usual sermon by the rector the church school will present a religious pageant entitled, "Advance the Line."

This is not an unusual thing in the Episcopal church and it is becoming more and more popular throughout the entire United States. In the past five years more than five thousand parishes of the Episcopal church have used the pageant as a means of interpreting and teaching some of the great truths of the Christian religion and frequently as a means of reproducing outstanding historical events in the development and advancement of the church. Practically all of the largest parishes of Minneapolis and St. Paul and Duluth have produced these pageants. Some years ago the National Council of the Episcopal church with headquarters in New York recognized the development of interest in religious pageantry and appointed a Commission on Church Pagentry. This commission announced a pageant contest, asking for pageants that would be helpful and interesting for all of the parishes of the Episcopal church today, in teaching some of the historical truths. Fifty-six manuscripts of pageants were received, representing participants in seventeen states. After careful reading of all by the judges, the pageant that is to be presented at St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brainerd, Sunday morning, November 29th at the regular 11 o'clock service was chosen as the winner of th contest. This pageant alone has been produced in more than two thousand parishes of the Episcopal church throughout the entire country.

It is a well known fact to the student of church history that the giving of miracle plays, moralities and pageants in the chancel of the church is an ancient custom and that such presentation can be given with a simplicity, a dignity and a reverence that stirs the beholder and inspires them to be more loyal and faithful as Disciples of Jesus Christ.

"Advance the Line" written by Marie E. J. Hobart will be found to meet all the requirements of spiritual uplift as well as intellectual stimulas. It will be presented in St. Paul's church, Brainerd from the same manuscript that was used by Bishop Bennett in presenting it in his last parish in Minneapolis, St. Paul's by name also, while he was the rector there and just before becoming the Bishop of Duluth in November 1920. The entire service will last only the usual length of time as the pageant is designed to be given in thirty minutes.

All Dawson had turned out for the opening, and Pierce recognized several of the El Dorado kings, among them Big Lars Anderson.

These new-born magnates were as thriftless as locusts, and in the midst of their baccanalian revels Pierce felt very poor, very obscure. Here was the roisterous spirit of the Northland at full play; it irked the young man intensely to feel that he could afford no part in it. Laure was not long in discovering him. She sped to him with the swiftness of a swallow; breathlessly she inquired:

"Where have you been so long? Why didn't you let me know you were back?"

"I just got in. I've been everywhere." He smiled down at her, and she clutched the lapel of his coat, then drew him out of the crowd. "I dropped in to see how you were getting along."

"Well, what do you think of the place?"

"Why, it looks as if you'd all get rich in a night."

"And you? Have you done anything for yourself?"

Pierce shook his head. In a few words he recounted his goings and his comings, his efforts and his failures. Laure followed the recital with swift, birdlike nods of understanding; her dark eyes were warm with sympathy.

"You're going at it the wrong way," she asserted when he had finished. "You have brains; make them work. Look at Best, look at Miller, his new partner; they know better than to mine. Mining is a fool's game. Play a sure thing, Pierce. Stay here in town and live like a human being; here's where the money will be made."

"Do you think I want to go flying over hill and dale, like a tumbleweed? I haven't had warm feet in a week and I weep salt tears when I see a bed. But I'm no Croesus; I've got to hustle. I think I've landed something finally." He told of Tom and Jerry's offer, but failed to impress his listener.

"If you go out to Hunker Creek I'll scarcely ever see you," said she. "That's the first objection. I've nearly died these last three weeks. But there are other objections. You couldn't get along with those old men. Why, they can't get along with each other! Then there's Joe McCaskey to think of. Why run into trouble?"

"I've thought of all that. But Big Lars is on the crest of his wave; he has the Midas touch, everything he lays his hands on turns to gold. He believes in Hunker—"

"I'll find out if he does," Laure said, quickly. "He's drinking. He'd tell me anything. Wait!" With a flashing smile she was off.

She returned with an air of triumph. "You'll learn to listen to me," she declared. "He says Hunker is low grade. That's why he lets lays on it instead of working it himself. Lars is a fox."

"He said that?"

"The best there is in it is wages. Those were his very words. Would you put up with Linton and Quirk and the two McCaskeys for wages? Of course not. I've something better fixed up for you." Without explaining, she led Pierce to the bar, where Morris Best was standing.

Best was genuinely glad to see his former employee; he warmly shook Pierce's hand.

"I've got 'em going, haven't I?" he chuckled.

Laure broke out, imperiously: "Loosen up, Morris, and let's all have a drink on the house. You can afford it."

"Sure!" With a happy grin the proprietor ordered a quart bottle of wine.

Pierce had not tasted liquor since his last farewell to Laure. Three weeks of hard work in the open air had effected a chemical change in his make-up, a purification of his tissues, and as a result Best's liquor mounted quickly to his head and warmed his blood. When he had emptied his glass Laure saw that it was promptly refilled.

"So you've cut out the stampeding," Morris continued. "Good! You've got sense. Let the roughnecks do it. This here Front Street is the best pay-streak in the Klondike and it won't pinch out. Why? Because every miner empties his poke into it." The speaker nodded, and leaned more intimately against Phillips. "They bring in their Bonanza dust and their El Dorado nuggets and salt our sluices. That's the system. It's simpler as falling down a log. What?"

"Come to the good news," Laure urged.

"This little woman hates you, don't she?" Best winked. "Just like she hates her right eye. You got her going, kid. Well, you can start work tomorrow."

"Start work? Where" Pierce was bewildered.

"Miller's looking for a gold-weigher. We'll put you out in the saloon proper."

"'Saloon proper?'?" Pierce shook his head in good-natured refusal. "I dare say it's the fault of my bringing-up, but—I don't think there's any such thing. I'm an out-door person. I'm one of the rough-necks who salts your sluice-boxes. I think I'd better stick to the hills. It's mighty nice of you, though, and I'm much obliged."

"Are you going to take that other offer?" Laure inquired. When Pierce hesitated she laid hold of his other arm. "I won't let you go," she cried. "I want you here—"

"Nonsense!" he protested. "I can't do anything for you. I have nothing—"

"Have I ever asked you for anything?" she blazed at him. "I can take care of myself, but—I want you. I sha'n't let you go."

"Better think it over," Best declared. "We need a good man."

"Yes-" Laure clung to Pierce's hand. "Don't be in a hurry. Anyhow, stay and dance with me while we talk about it. We've never had a dance together. Please!"

The proprietor of the theater was in a genial mood. "Stick around," he seconded. "Your credit is good and it won't worry me none if you never take up your tabs. Laure has got the right idea; play 'em safe and sure, and let the other feller do the work. Now we'll have another bottle."

Federal Survey Shows Corn Crop Fairly Good in Seventh District

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Excessive rainfall during the husking period has caused a slight rise in the moisture content of corn of the seventh federal reserve district, but the general condition of the crop is considerably better than it was at this time last year, according to the federal survey of the district.

The quality of the potato crop, however, is not quite so good as at this time last year. A majority of the farmers had harvested their potato crops before the freezing weather in October so that little damage was done to the potato crop, the report shows.

The increase in winter wheat acreage does not quite equal expectations.

Butter productions in the seventh district aggregated 2.3 per cent less in October than in September but was .6 per cent more than in the corresponding month last year.

Smaller quantities of dairy products but larger tonnages of poultry were on hand at cold storage packing houses on November 1, than were on nand October 1, the reports say. Stocks of butter and poultry are lower than a year ago, but cheese and eggs are greater.

Factories in Wisconsin supplied primary markets within the state with 12.3 per cent less cheese during the four weeks ending Oct. 1, than in the four weeks preceding. The tonnage was, however, 5.9 per cent greater than for the same period last year. The sales from these markets showed an 8.4 per cent recession from September and aggregated 8.6 per cent over the total during the same period last year.

Lagado is an imaginary city, the capital of Baluibarbi, a continent subject to the kingdom of Laputa. It is mentioned in "Gulliver's Travels" as being famous for an academy where learned men spend their time in extracting sunbeams from cucumbers, transmuting ice into gunpowder, and making pincushions from softened rocks.—Kansas City Star.

STOCKS OPEN HIGHER

New York, Nov. 28.—The short session opened with a generally firm tone and price levels were higher than the previous close. These gains were fairly well maintained through the first hour following which offerings increased materially and the general list gave ground.

Action from early highs ran from one to five points with pressure more noticeable on the motors than other groups. This development was not regarded as illogical in view of the rapid recovery in prices late Friday coming on the heels of the sharp gains all through the list on Wednesday.

Traders apparently were more desirous of buying in some of their stocks than to take on a new line over the week end. A new development of importance was the increase of $2 a ton in sulphur.

The market closed lower.

Charlie Chaplin Does the Unusual in New Picture "The Gold Rush"

It has been said that to combine comedy and pathos in a film production and not destroy the illusions of the audience requires a truly great artist.

In "The Gold Rush," his great comedy-drama of Alaska in ten parts, now showing at New Park theatre, Charlie Chaplin seeks the sympathies in the role of a weakling prospector, a hard luck "sourdough" in the Alaskan wilderness.
